

Knowles Challenges UW Budget Request

Proposal of $212 Million By University

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
MADISON — Gov. Warren P. Knowles, normally known for his placid approach to politics, stiffly rebuked University of Wisconsin officials Wednesday as they presented their $212 million budget request for 1967-68.

Knowles gave searching public looks to a number of sections of the university's request for $212.317,000 during the coming two years, of which $212,801,000 is to come from state tax funds.

Knowles strenuously challenged a request made by Madison campus Chancellor Robben W. Fleming for $4.5 million for instructional improvements, mainly for undergraduates, on the main campus.

Fleming asked for a flat allocation which would be used by the UW in various programs to improve the quality of instruction offered. It would be done mainly by reducing student-teacher ratio from the present 23-1 to nearer the

8 Children Die In Bus Accident

Trailer Carrying 10 Tons of Sand Tips in Ontario

WINDSOR, Ont. (AP) — Tons of sand spilled from a tractor-trailer onto a school bus loaded with 30 children Wednesday crushing the bus, killing eight youngsters and injuring 13.

The 10 tons of wet sand cascaded onto the bus as the trailer flipped over after turning a corner and scraping the side of the bus at an intersection near Windsor, a city across the Detroit River from Detroit.

"The kids were yelling their heads off. It was pitiful," said Gerald Gemus, 31, of Oldcastle, Ont. Gemus, who arrived at the scene just after the accident occurred, added, "I hope I never see anything like it again."

Trapped in Wreckage
The bus was carrying the children home from Frith School in Maidstone, with one day of school left before Christmas holidays. Most of the children lived in the Oldcastle area near Windsor.

Children trapped inside the bus were screaming. Some were pinned under broken seats, others trapped by twisted metal or buried under the sand.

For nearly two hours, Gemus and others — policemen, firemen, doctors, ambulance drivers and passersby — tore apart the wreckage with crowbars, acetylene torches and their bare hands.

"We were afraid to use shovels at first, because we might injure some of the kids we couldn't see under the sand," Gemus said.

Waiting At Signal
The tractor-trailer rig was turning a corner when it scraped the bus, which had just discharged two children and was waiting at the traffic signal.

The door on the driver's side was jammed shut, but the bulk of the sand poured into the bus farther back. The roof was pinched in and the frame twisted sideways.

The bus driver, James Levy, 40, father of three, was treated for shock. Levy, who escaped

Wife Held in Shooting Death Of Chilton Man

Robert Orr, 38,
Dies of Wounds
From .22 Pistol

MANITOWOC — A 38-year-old rural Chilton man died of 22 caliber bullet wounds early this morning at his home near Collins and his wife was being held in the Manitowoc County jail for questioning in connection with the shooting, according to Manitowoc County authorities.

Robert G. Orr, route 4, Chilton, near Collins, was pronounced dead of chest wounds about 6:30 a.m. Manitowoc County Coroner Dr. Theodore Teitgen said.

Police were notified of the shooting at about 6:10 a.m. when a traffic officer at the sheriff's office received a call, which he said was placed by Orr's wife, Cora. Manitowoc County jailer Eugene Stringstube this morning said the other officer told him Mrs. Orr stated she had shot her husband.

Worked Until Midnight
Teitgen said Orr, a foundry worker at Brillion Iron Works, was at work until after midnight. Orr apparently arrived at the family's rented farm home in a wooded area later this morning. Teitgen said the man apparently was intoxicated and abused his wife.

Two shots fired from the revolver struck Orr in the chest, Teitgen said. A third shot apparently missed and ricocheted around the walls of the dining room.

Orr reportedly died in the kitchen of the house. The kitchen is adjacent to the dining room.

After authorities were notified of the shooting, an ambulance was sent to the scene from Manitowoc, a distance of about 25 miles. The coroner said Orr was dead by the time authorities arrived.

Orr is believed from Sioux City, Iowa. He moved to the home in Manitowoc County in July.

More Low Temperatures Expected

Wintry Weather in With Winter

Winter is here. For persons who like to take the opportunity to welcome it in, it came at 2:29 a.m. today, about the time a cold blast of air struck throughout the state.

Temperatures were recorded below the zero mark in northern parts of the state and below freezing elsewhere. The official low in the state overnight was a minus-five in Superior, while Milwaukee basked in the highest overnight low, a brisk 18 above.

Appleton welcomed the new season with an official reading of 20 this morning and showed no immediate prospects of getting much higher. The weatherman has called for partly cloudy skies for tonight and tomorrow, a chance of snow flurries and colder temperatures.

The highest temperature recorded in Wisconsin Wednesday was 33 at Beloit-Rockford and a 32 at Milwaukee and La Crosse. Madison and Lone Rock checked in 31 degrees and Racine had a 30. The warmest temperature to hit the Duluth-Superior area was 14.

Some very light snow showers occurred in the Milwaukee area early today, but the weather was clear and cold in most of the remainder of Wisconsin.

The highest temperature in the 48 contiguous United States in the last day of fall was 82 at Del Rio, Cotulla and McAllen, Texas. The lowest reported mark today was 17 below zero at Grand Forks, N. D., and Thief River Falls, Minn.

B52s Pound Two Red Strongholds

U. S. Reveals 2 Planes Were Downed by Jets

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — Long-range U.S. B52 bombers delivered a double blow at Communist strongholds in Vietnam today.

One formation of the heavy bombers flew in from Guam to strike before dawn at Viet Cong bunkers and fortifications in War Zone C about 45 miles northwest of Saigon.

A second wave hit late in the afternoon at infiltrating North Vietnamese troops in the Demilitarized Zone between North and South Vietnam.

Amplifying an earlier report, the U.S. Navy reported that two Phantom Jets from the carrier Kitty Hawk shot down two slow-moving enemy planes with air-to-air missiles over the Gulf of Tonkin Tuesday night and the pilots saw them explode.

Headed for Cruiser
An earlier announcement said only that the enemy planes had disappeared from radar detection screens. The announcement today said the planes were detected as they were heading in the direction of the nuclear-powered U.S. cruiser Long Beach but did not say they were trying to attack her.

In other developments:
— Prime Minister Harold Holt

announced in Canberra that Australia is beefing up its 4,500-man contingent in Vietnam to 6,300 men early next year. He said Australia will send 900 more soldiers, the guided-missile destroyer Hobart and a squadron of eight Canberra jet bombers.

Premier Nguyen Cao Ky said the United States should continue bombing North Vietnam until Hanoi responds to moves for peace talks.

Gen. Vo Nguyen Giap, North Vietnam's defense minister, pledged to fight on until complete victory for the Communists, declaring in Hanoi that the Communists "are determined to fight and are sure to defeat" the Americans.

Korean Summary
— The Korean Military Command, in a year-end summary, announced that its troops have killed 5,559 of the enemy and captured 1,529 in the past year. The Korean force of 45,000 men lost 539 killed and 1,442 wounded, the summary said.

U.S. headquarters, in its weekly casualty report, said 88 Americans were killed and 433 wounded in combat last week, compared with 83 killed and 559 wounded the previous week.

Vietnamese headquarters said 190 government soldiers were killed in the week ending last Saturday, compared with 216 the previous week. U.S. head-

Mayor Claims Third of Hanoi Is Evacuated

MOSCOW (AP) — The mayor of Hanoi said in an interview published today that one-third of the city's population, including almost all school children, has been evacuated.

Mayor Trang Qui Hung told the Hanoi correspondent of Pravda, the Soviet Communist party newspaper:

"We consider that at any moment Hanoi can be bombed." Pravda said the interview was given "some days before the December bombings of Hanoi." The U.S. Command in Saigon has denied North Vietnamese claims that American planes bombed Hanoi on Dec. 13 and 14.

Mrs. Kennedy, Look Agree On Deletions for Publication

Book Company Reportedly Ready To Settle Controversy Same Way

NEW YORK (AP) — The chief counsel for Harper & Row said today the book publishing firm "will be very glad" to settle the Kennedy book controversy with Mrs. John F. Kennedy along the lines of her out-of-court agreement with Look magazine.

Requested deletions and modifications that pertain to the personal life of Mrs. Kennedy and her children will allow Look to publish a four-part serialization of the book, "The Death of a President," as scheduled. The first part of the 80,000-word series will be in the Look issue of Jan. 10.

When informed of the agreement reached Wednesday night, Edward S. Greenbaum, attorney for Harper & Row, said: "Harper & Row will be very glad to make a similar arrangement with Mrs. Kennedy."

Request Conference

Harper & Row officials requested a conference today with Simon H. Rifkind, attorney for Mrs. Kennedy.

Both Mrs. Kennedy and Gardner Cowles, chairman of the board of Cowles Communications, Inc., publishers of Look, issued statements shortly after the agreement was announced.

"I hope," said Cowles, "that the controversy between the Kennedy family and Harper & Row will be speedily resolved because Cass Canfield (chairman of the executive committee of Harper & Row) has been extremely helpful in the discussions concerning the serialization."

"The public should not be deprived of the opportunity to read" author William Manchester's manuscript, Cowles added.

Not At Meetings

Harper & Row plans to come out in book form next April with the 300,000-word story of the assassination of President Kennedy. The firm was not represented at Wednesday's meetings which led to the Look agreement.

Mrs. Kennedy said in her statement that "Look magazine has agreed to remove or modify all those passages in the magazine version of 'The Death of a President' relating to the personal life" of herself and her children.

"These paragraphs," Mrs. Kennedy's statement continued, "were the sole reasons for the initiation of her legal action. Since every passage of a personal nature under contention for several months was either deleted by Look, or changed to her satisfaction, Mrs. Kennedy has withdrawn her suit."

Historical Accuracy

The Cowles' statement said that the changes involved "approximately 1,600 out of 80,000 authorized words, but that they 'in no way affected the historical accuracy or completeness of Mr. Manchester's manuscript.'"

Mrs. Kennedy, in what was interpreted by some as an apparent but indirect allusion to President Johnson, said in her statement:

"I have been told there are historical inaccuracies and unfair references in this book. That they have been written is unfortunate. However, it was clear before bringing this suit that historical judgments, even if inaccurate, could not properly be suppressed by a court of law."

In time, history will deal fairly and justly with this period."

Unfavorable Light

Several persons who have read the book reported that it shows a hostility by the Kennedys towards Johnson and depicts the President in an unfavorable light. Some of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy's advisors feel that it could further strain the political relationship between Johnson and Kennedy and possibly have an adverse effect on the Democratic senator's political future.

A source close to the Kennedy family said earlier in the week that members of the family also were upset about the references to Johnson in the book, and that they felt Manchester had treated the President unfairly.

Robert Kennedy, vacationing in Sun Valley, Idaho, declined to comment on the Look agreement.

Manchester could not be reached immediately for comment.

There were at least 12 principal passages in the book that Mrs. Kennedy wanted adjusted. These included:

— Her reported reaction of

Guess Puts Civilian Deaths at 400,000

By ROBERT D. OHMAN
SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — How many civilians are becoming casualties in South Vietnam?

The exact number of victims in two decades of fighting may never be known. Even today no accurate record is kept of battle-connected deaths and injuries among the 16 million civilians.

Figures from Vietnamese and American public and private sources indicate that this year's civilian toll has averaged about 1,000 a month, with at least three times that many wounded.

If the figure on deaths is correct, the loss of 12,000 civilian lives this year would nearly parallel the battle deaths of American and Vietnamese military personnel. This total, based on figures available through Dec. 10 for the Americans and through November for the Vietnamese, is 13,270.

Below Estimates

The guesses on civilian deaths, the best available from official sources here, are far below an estimate published today in the U.S. magazine Ramparts. It has an article by William F. Pepper saying that "conservative estimates" put civilian deaths currently at 100,000 a year.

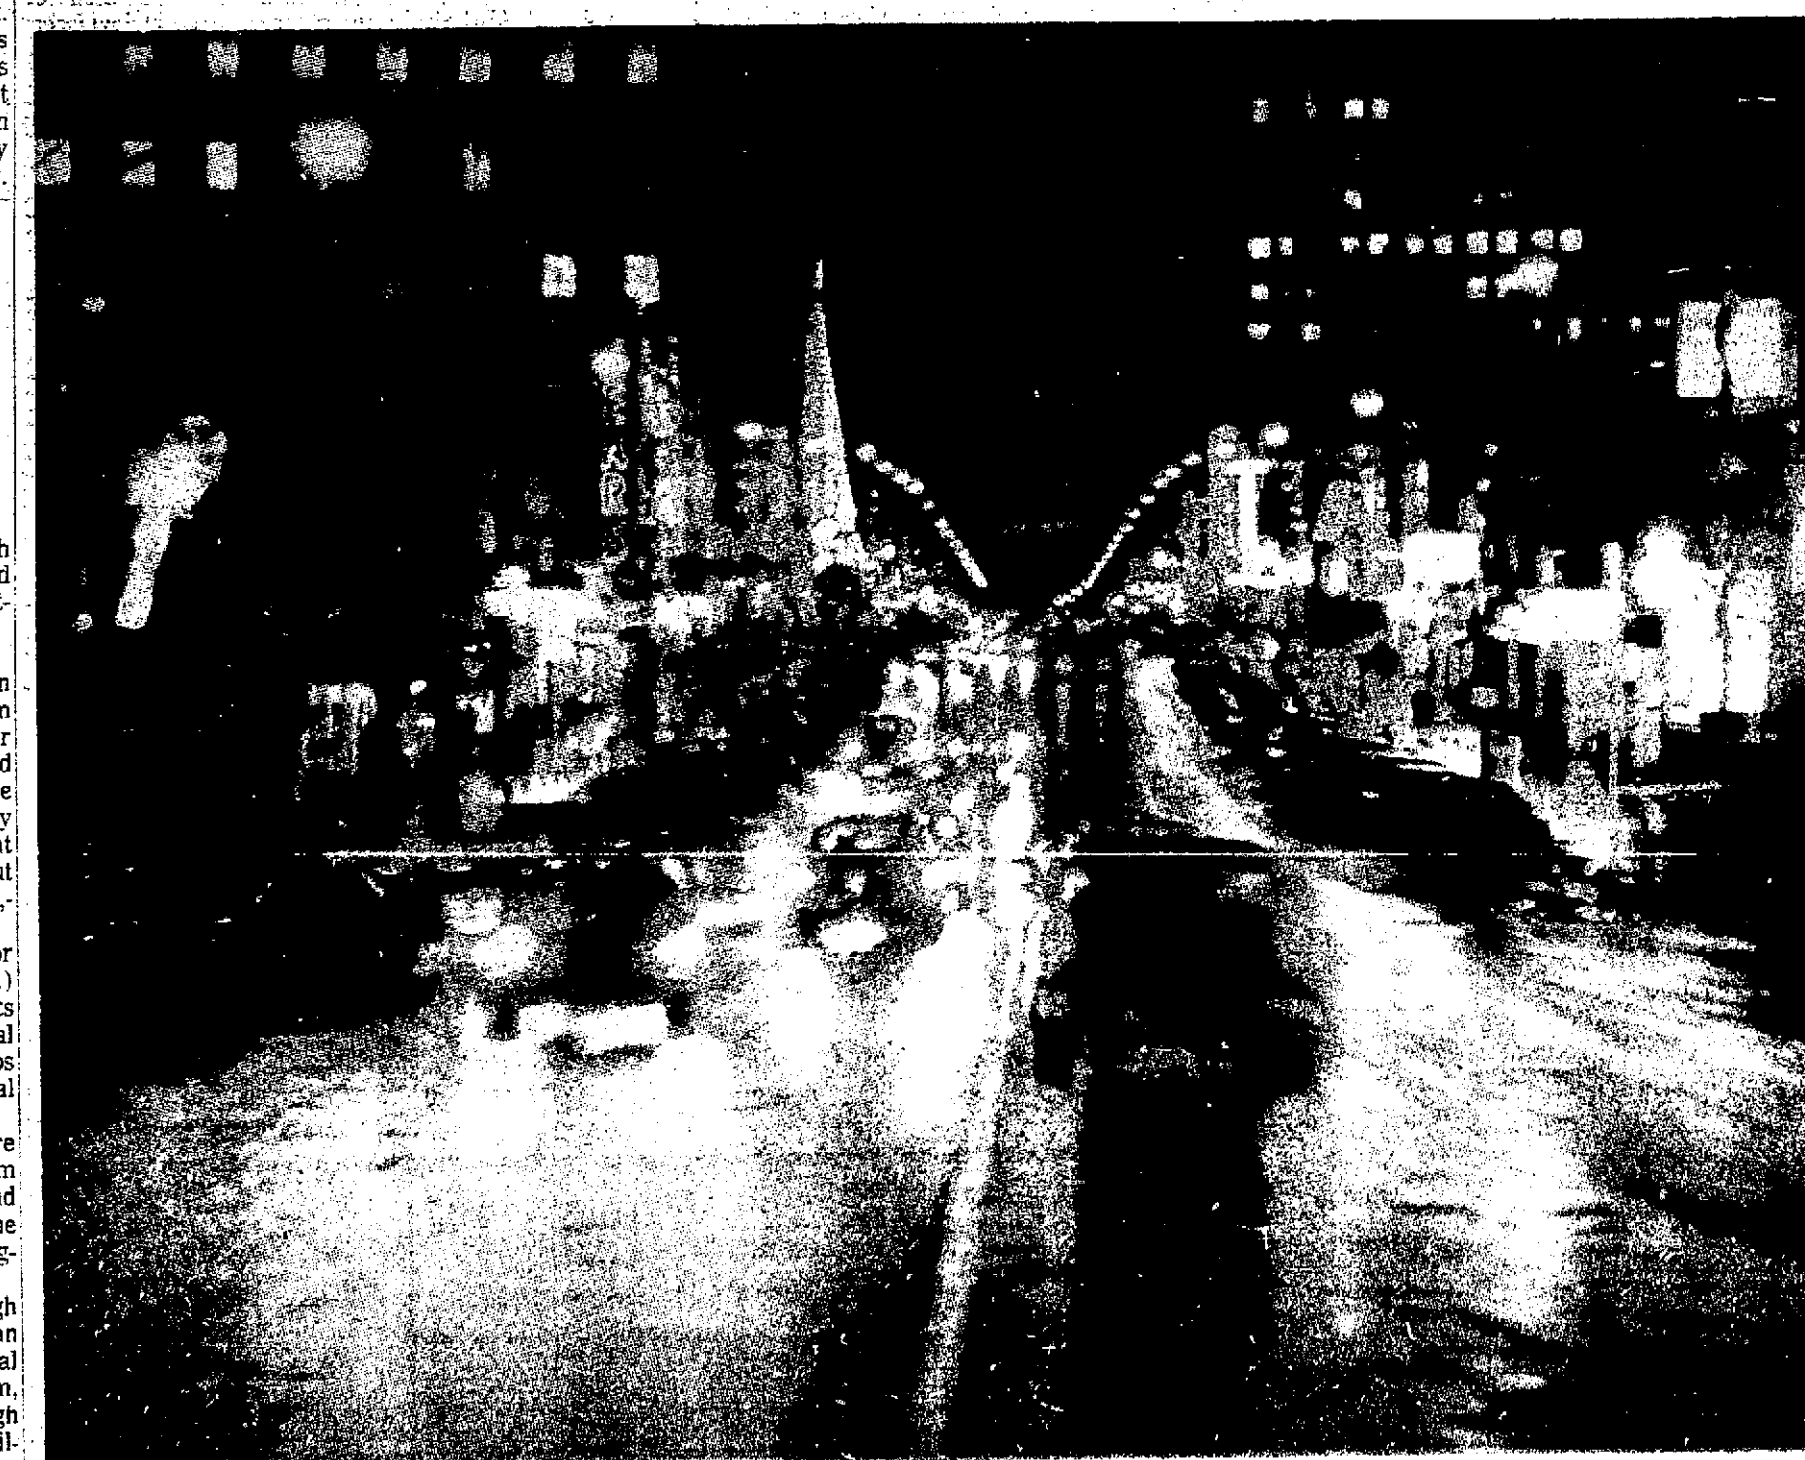

Pepper is executive director of the New Rochelle (N.Y.) Commission on Human Rights and instructor in political science at Mercy College, Dobbs Ferry, N.Y. He spent several weeks in Vietnam last spring.

"The horror of what we are doing to the children of Vietnam — we, because napalm and white phosphorus are the weapons of America — is staggering," his article says.

"Nearly two years ago Hugh Campbell, former Canadian member of the International Control Commission in Vietnam, said that from 1961 through 1963, 160,000 Vietnamese civilians died in the war. This figure was borne out by officials in Saigon."

"According to conservative

U.S. Might Accept Viet Cong in Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States appears to be holding up to the Communists the possibility that representatives of the Viet Cong might be included in their own right in any Vietnamese peace talks.

But the implication is still vague and without government commitment.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk would tell a news conference Wednesday only that "we are prepared to talk about the problem of peace in Vietnam" without preconditions of any sort from either side."

C. S. Prepared

In fact, Rusk declared, the United States is prepared to talk about preconditions if the Communists would prefer that — and obviously in such circumstances the United States would be prepared to consider the issue of Viet Cong representation if the other side raised it.

Some authorities here privately believe if there ever is a Vietnamese conference the representatives of North Vietnam may simply turn up with a delegation from the Viet Cong, announce it is there and challenge the United States in effect to accept the delegation or break up the conference.

The issue has arisen currently because of the U.S. appeal transmitted to U.N. Secretary-General U Thant last Monday by Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg. In his letter, he asked U Thant to do everything possible to get peace talks started.

Blank Check

The letter seemed to give U Thant virtually a blank check on behalf of the United States. It left open the possibility that he might arrange for some direct dealing between U.S. representatives and the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front.

Without any commitment on the Viet Cong issue or on specific cease-fire questions raised by newsmen, Rusk supported what he called "a maximum freedom of maneuver" for Thant.

"We are saying that we believe that the secretary-general should exercise his office to the fullest to explore all possibilities of a responsible discussion with the other side to bring this matter to a peaceful conclusion," Rusk said.

Anti-Trust Settlement

Appleton and Shawano will receive $2,467 and $1,380 respectively as shares in the $115,000 the state has received from seven firms as a settlement in an anti-trust suit concerning sale of metal library shelving, it was disclosed today.

The announcement was made at Madison by Atty. Gen. Bronson LaFollette whose office instituted the litigation against the companies on behalf of the state and several municipalities.

In the suit filed in U.S. District Court last January, the firms were charged with conspiring to divide the market on large contracts involving library shelves.

Byrnes Names Staff Aide

James Sutherland, Appleton, Will Join Congressman

WASHINGTON, D. C. — James P. Sutherland of Appleton will join the staff of Rep. John W. Byrnes, R-Green Bay, in January, the congressman announced today.

Sutherland will fill a newly-created position as assistant for community relations, Byrnes said, and will specialize in the problems of local governments in their dealings with the federal government.

"The continuing enlargement

of the scope of federal activity in areas formerly the exclusive province of local governments has multiplied the work of our congressional office in this field," Byrnes said. "I am highly pleased that Jim Sutherland has agreed to come to Washington to help me work with our communities and assist them in any way we can with the complex problems they face in this area."

Sutherland is a Wisconsin native, the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Sutherland, 304 N. Union St., Appleton. He attended Appleton High School and graduated from Georgetown University in 1957. A veteran of three years of service in the Marine Corps as an officer, Sutherland is married and the father of two children. Presently residing at 422 E. Washington St., in Appleton, the Sutherlands will move to Washington shortly after the first of the year.

Byrnes' new assistant will leave his position as special agent with the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Co. to go to the nation's capital.

Sutherland has been active in congressional politics in the Eighth District. He has served as Outagamie Volunteers for Byrnes Chairman in the last three elections and has been congressional campaign coordinator for the Eighth District Republican organization for 1954 and 1956. In 1955, he was appointed an adviser to the National Republican Congressional Committee.

The landlord, who lives in the first floor apartment, notified a son when he failed to hear any activity during the morning. He also stated she failed to pick up the morning mail, Hughes said. The son entered the apartment by a ladder placed at the bathroom window.

Big Difference Evident in LBJ Repeat Activity

Many Moves Like Last Year's, but President New Man

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — It looks new, what's been happening, but then it doesn't because a whiff of the past comes through. But underneath it all there is something really new with a deep difference, President Johnson.

Take that, tax increase, for instance. Right now Johnson is supposed to be deciding whether to ask Congress for one. Just at this time last year he was trying to decide the same thing. He decided no.

In the past week the Johnson administration began its annual peace attempt, asked U Thant, secretary-general of the United Nations, to see what he could do about getting peace negotiations on Vietnam started.

The Communist world hooted. Phony, it said. That's what it said last year when Johnson sent peace emissaries around the world. Nothing came of it then, nothing is expected to come of it now.

Credibility Gap

Then there's the phrase which irritates Johnson vastly: the "credibility gap." Just about this time last year Arthur J. Goldberg, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, made a confession: "We have a great problem here maintaining our credibility."

He meant with foreigners and with Americans at home. These widespread doubts, he explained, deal with whether the United States can be trusted to tell the truth about one or with her private peace feeler with whether its leaders "really are pursuing what has been said is a path of peace."

The story behind this was a rumor about a peace feeler from the North Vietnamese Communists. It got all complex and mixed up.

Hanoi Bombing

Last week American credibility got involved again when Red China charged that U.S. planes bombed residential areas in Hanoi, the capital of North Vietnam. Government officials here denied it, saying military targets had been bombed.

This came just as the credibility of the Johnson administration in general was being assailed.

But even a thing like the President's operation and recu-peration last Dec. On Oct. 8, 1965 he had his gall bladder and a kidney stone removed, then went to his Texas ranch to recuperate. There he prepared his budget and messages for the Congress returning in 1966.

This year, on Nov. 16, he had some minor surgery, went to his Texas ranch to recuperate, and there has been working on his programs for the Congress coming back in 1967.

Up to this point everything looks like the same old thing all over again. But not quite.

Stunning Job

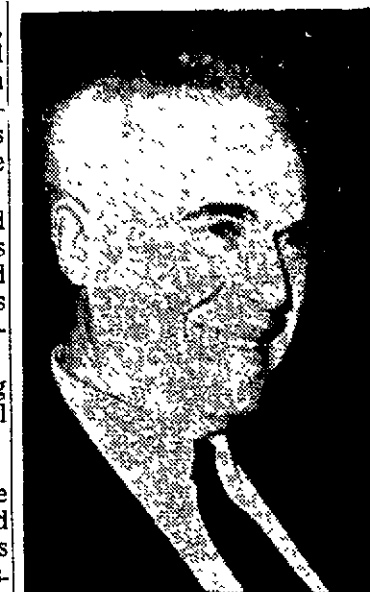

When Johnson went to the hospital in October 1965, he had behind him the most miraculous performance in peacetime legislation that any Congress in history had ever achieved. It was a stunning job.

It was more than that. It was tremendous testimony to Johnson's extraordinary leadership in dealing with Congress.

But he had no such luck in 1966 and may never have again. The road was down this year, in influence and in politics. He failed to do his full share in the political campaigns and the Republicans made gains in the elections.

For a man as outgoing, back-slapping and talkative as Johnson, his conduct took a strange turn: He has talked practically not at all since the elections, he has stayed cooped up in his ranch, he has remained silent as criticism piled up on him.

This is a brand new Johnson. In these past few months has become a kind of

Mother's Personality Problems Often Cause of Child's Asthma

CHICAGO — Psychiatrists, in need of reassurance from others, irritable and primary cause of childhood asthma, tends to feel guilty.

The physicians and psychologists tended to group mothers according to three factors: (1) the "deprived" mother who is an anxious, self-pitying woman with meager resources for coping with stress, (2) the "achievement-oriented" mother who has a high level of aspiration for herself and others, and (3) the "assertive" mother who is impulsive, expressive, controlling, and oriented toward power assertion.

These descriptions most fit the three types, the clinicians said.

Type 1 — is basically anxious, feels cheated and victimized by life, is self-pitying, creates and exploits dependency in people, is subtly negativistic, and tends to undermine and obstruct or sabotage.

Type 2 — is anxious, vulnerable to real or fancied threat, and is generally fearful; has high aspirations for self, and is concerned with her adequacy as a person.

Feel Guilty

Type 3 — is talkative and is facially and or gesturally expressive, is self-dramatizing and histrionic.

Other qualities quite characteristic of a "Type 3" mother; she is protective of those close to her, behaves in an assertive fashion, creates and exploits dependency in people, has a rapid personal tempo, and behaves and acts quickly.

Quite characteristic of a "Type 2" mother is her verbal fluency, a tendency to perceive many different contexts in the sexual terms, a sensitivity to anything that could be construed as a demand, and a readiness to feel guilty.

"Type 1" mothers also tend to be protective of those close to them, but have doubts about their personal adequacy. They keep people at a distance and avoid close relationships. Such a mother is very sensitive to anything that could be construed as criticism.

The clinicians agreed in describing the asthmatic mother as not calm and relaxed, not submissive, not skilled in the social techniques of play and humor, and as neither rebellious nor non-conforming.

The authors stress, however, that asthma is a complex phenomenon. Its cause cannot entirely be blamed on the mother. In some children, particularly those of "Type 3" mothers, the children's physical makeup seemed to be more a cause of their asthma than their psychological relationships with their mothers, the report said.

Ricky Swiertz, Below, hung onto Santa's finger with one hand and pulled away with the other. Sometimes just looking at Santa takes more courage than a child can muster. Ricky is the son of Mrs. Shirley Swiertz.

Mark Hubers Had Reticence in his eyes, although he did manage to discuss a few things. All children shown here visited Santa at his house at the Appleton State Bank. Mark is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Hubers, Kimberly.

Pat Vandenberg, Below, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Vandenberg, told Santa he is four years old—a very important fact for Santa to know when making his Christmas visit.

Mary Beth Konz had a warm smile when she told Santa about her Christmas wishes. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Konz is one of thousands of children who have talked to Santa this year.

The Magical Gift That Childhood Brings

BY JEAN OTTO
Post-Crescent Women's Editor

It's easier for adults. They live with the realities. They know that if Christmas gets away from them they'll pay the piper in January, when house taxes become due and the Internal Revenue Service becomes more than an abstract government torture device. They make lists and budget and scratch off and start over.

They sometimes buy what's cheap because they can't do anything else. Or they buy what's too expensive, because they have no courage. But they have choices, and through it all, they become caught up in the spirit of doing for others, however lavish or meager the gift.

Kids are utterly vulnerable. They want with all their hearts and somehow they are certain that life is so magical, parents so powerful, and Christmas so magnificent that anything at all is possible.

Santa. No one else looks like him, so that automatically makes him the 'most special'. His long white beard indicates he has lived forever, and so knows all and can do all. His smiling eyes have seen everything, and can look right down into a child's heart. He's big, big enough to own the whole North Pole and to drive reindeer through the sky and find a way to get in a house without a fireplace. He's kind, for his Brownies come back to work for him year after year. He's so magical that a child will tremble and not be able to talk in his presence. He can do anything, from delivering a bicycle to making a brother well to bringing snow.

Santa is part of the magic world that only a child knows. He's part of the music and the lights and the lying awake in bed and the perfect world that Christmas promises.

Not many people would disillusion a child about Christmas, for adults remember how it was when anything was possible and 'tomorrow' was the best day of all the year. The dreams a child whispers vanish when he grows up and the magic disappears. But the ability to dream is the gift that stays forever.

Loaded Circuits Fan Yuletide Fire Hazards

Fire hazard is of greatest concern during the yule season because of extra loaded electrical circuits in the home, according to Lynn A. Brooks, agricultural engineer at the University of Wisconsin.

Extra baking, added use of kitchen appliances and indoor and outdoor Christmas lighting, strain electrical wiring.

Overloading can be temporarily remedied by dividing the load between circuits. An extension cord can be used to connect to another circuit that has less use.

Don't run extension cords across doorways or under rugs unless some insulative protection is provided. Check before using to be sure the cords are not frayed or worn.

If shopping for new lighting sets, check to see if label indicates approval of Underwriters Laboratory (UL). This label tells you the set is safe to use under the conditions for which it was designed. It doesn't necessarily insure good quality.

Purchase One Set

Consider buying one 25 light set rather than three seven light sets if to be used for one area. Most bulbs in various sizes and shapes are easily replaced.

Check to be sure, since some miniature bulbs may not be replaceable.

Be sure of weather proof qualities when buying outdoor lighting. New sets will indicate such protection on the box. You may have discarded boxes from sets on hand so visually check these points: a rubber gasket needs to be between bulb and socket base to form a moisture seal when bulb is screwed in; connection plugs should have molded plugs and outlets.

If rubber gaskets are worn or lost, replace them with new ones available at most counters where lighting equipment is sold.

When installing outside lighting be sure electrical connections are off the ground. As an added protection wrap electric tape around the connection to seal against moisture.

The most successful way of lighting flocked or aluminum trees in the home is with a flood or spot light. Lamps marked R 30 or R 40 are recommended. A rotating colored disc is an effective way to add color and interest to these trees.

As a final safety precaution, check to be sure all lighting is disconnected before leaving home, Mr. Brooks suggests.

Lee Radziwill to Begin Career on the Stage

By THOMAS A. REEDY
LONDON (AP) — The dark-eyed young woman in the salmon pink above-the-knee dress tossed her head and said with just a little bravado in her low, husky voice:

"I'm taking a terrible risk. But I think I shall make it."

This is the way Lee Radziwill, the former Caroline Lee Bouvier, sums up her coming debut in show business.

The 33-year-old sister of Jacqueline Kennedy, wife of Prince Stanislas Radziwill and mother of two children, will stride onto the boards of the Ivanhoe Theater in Chicago next June to play the leading role of Tracy Lord in "The Philadelphia Story."

She flies to Chicago from her London home June 9 for rehearsals and the play opens June 20 for a four-week run.

The role is that of a wealthy young heiress, not exactly foreign to her as it wasn't to Katherine Hepburn when she made it famous.

Old Dream

"I've always wanted to be an actress," Lee Radziwill said in an interview. "At school and in college I did some things. But

Prince Philip 'Most Wanted' Dinner Guest

LONDON (AP) — Prince Philip has emerged the two-to-one favorite in a six-celebrity Christmas dinner stakes poll.

Mass Observation, Ltd., made public Wednesday in London its sampling of 2,000 persons.

Interviewers asked with which of the celebrities — including James Bond and actress Elizabeth Taylor — a person would most like to have Christmas dinner.

Reasoned one participant who preferred Philip, husband of Queen Elizabeth II: "There should be some good grub and I could have a look around the palace."

Sheinwold Far-Seeing Defense Can Win Game

Not every good bid produces a good result. If the opponents put up a brilliant defense and the cards are unfavorably located, your own brilliance may land you in the soup. Our example of virtue unrewarded comes from the Team Selection Tournament, held last month in Pittsburgh.

Four spades was a very shrewd sacrifice bid. West was surely going to make game in hearts for a score of 620, 650 or 680 points; and South hoped that the penalty would be smaller at four spades.

If East held the ace of diamonds instead of the ace of hearts, South would lose only one heart, one diamond and two trumps. The penalty would be only 200 points, so that South would save more than 400 points by sacrificing.

As the cards lay, South lost more than the value of the game. Sidney Lazard, New Orleans expert, overtook the king of hearts with his ace at the first trick and returned the ten of clubs.

This defense eventually earned East a club ruff. South won the club return with the king and led a spade, losing dummy's king to the ace. Back came another club, and South won and led another trump. All would work out well if the two missing trumps fell on the same trick.

There was no such luck. East took the jack of spades and led a diamond. Now West could take two diamonds and lead a club, giving East the ruff that he had cleverly set up. South was down three, for a penalty of 800 points.

Virtue went unrewarded on this hand, but not for the entire ten days of the tournament. Sammy Kehela and Eric Murray, Toronto experts who held the South and North hands shown today, profited enough from their other good bids to win a berth on the 1967 North American bridge team.

Fabric Determines Thread Color, Size

To make your sewing easier, remember the following pointers about purchasing or using thread.

Use size 50 in regular cotton mercerized thread for all hand and machine sewing on light and medium weight fabrics. For draperies or slipcovers in heavy weight fabrics, get heavy duty cotton mercerized thread, size 40.

Select thread in a color slightly darker than the fabrics, as thread appears lighter when stitched.

Another tip: you'll save yourself an extra trip if you check yardage on spools before you buy. For one dress, you'll need about 200 yards of thread or two spools.

The Prettiest Time to be Pretty

It may be cut-offs the rest of the year, but the swingy ones want something more for the holiday season. Loafers and knee sox, jeans and sloppy shirts might be great for an average Saturday night, but they won't make the scene during the Christmas season.

There are still two shopping days left—time, now that gifts for the family and best friends are all tucked away, to consider what to wear Christmas Eve, to the party planned for midweek, for tree-seeing visits, and for New Year's Eve. However casual life has become, the teens and teen-hearted don't want a mini amount of fashion for the next two weeks.

Wild and Wonderful

Color and color contrasts come over loudspeakers this dress-up time. Some of them are wild, but oh so pretty. Light blue with lime; mauve with pink and bright yellow, orange, all carried out in 'realgirl' styling, draw compliments that have nothing to do with the season.

Pantsuits are the 'in' item for the party that is informal. They're great for sitting on the floor while the record player rings out carols, or the radio rocks to "Bitter Sweet". They're dressy as Dickens at home, and cool as icicles for the gang might want to do.

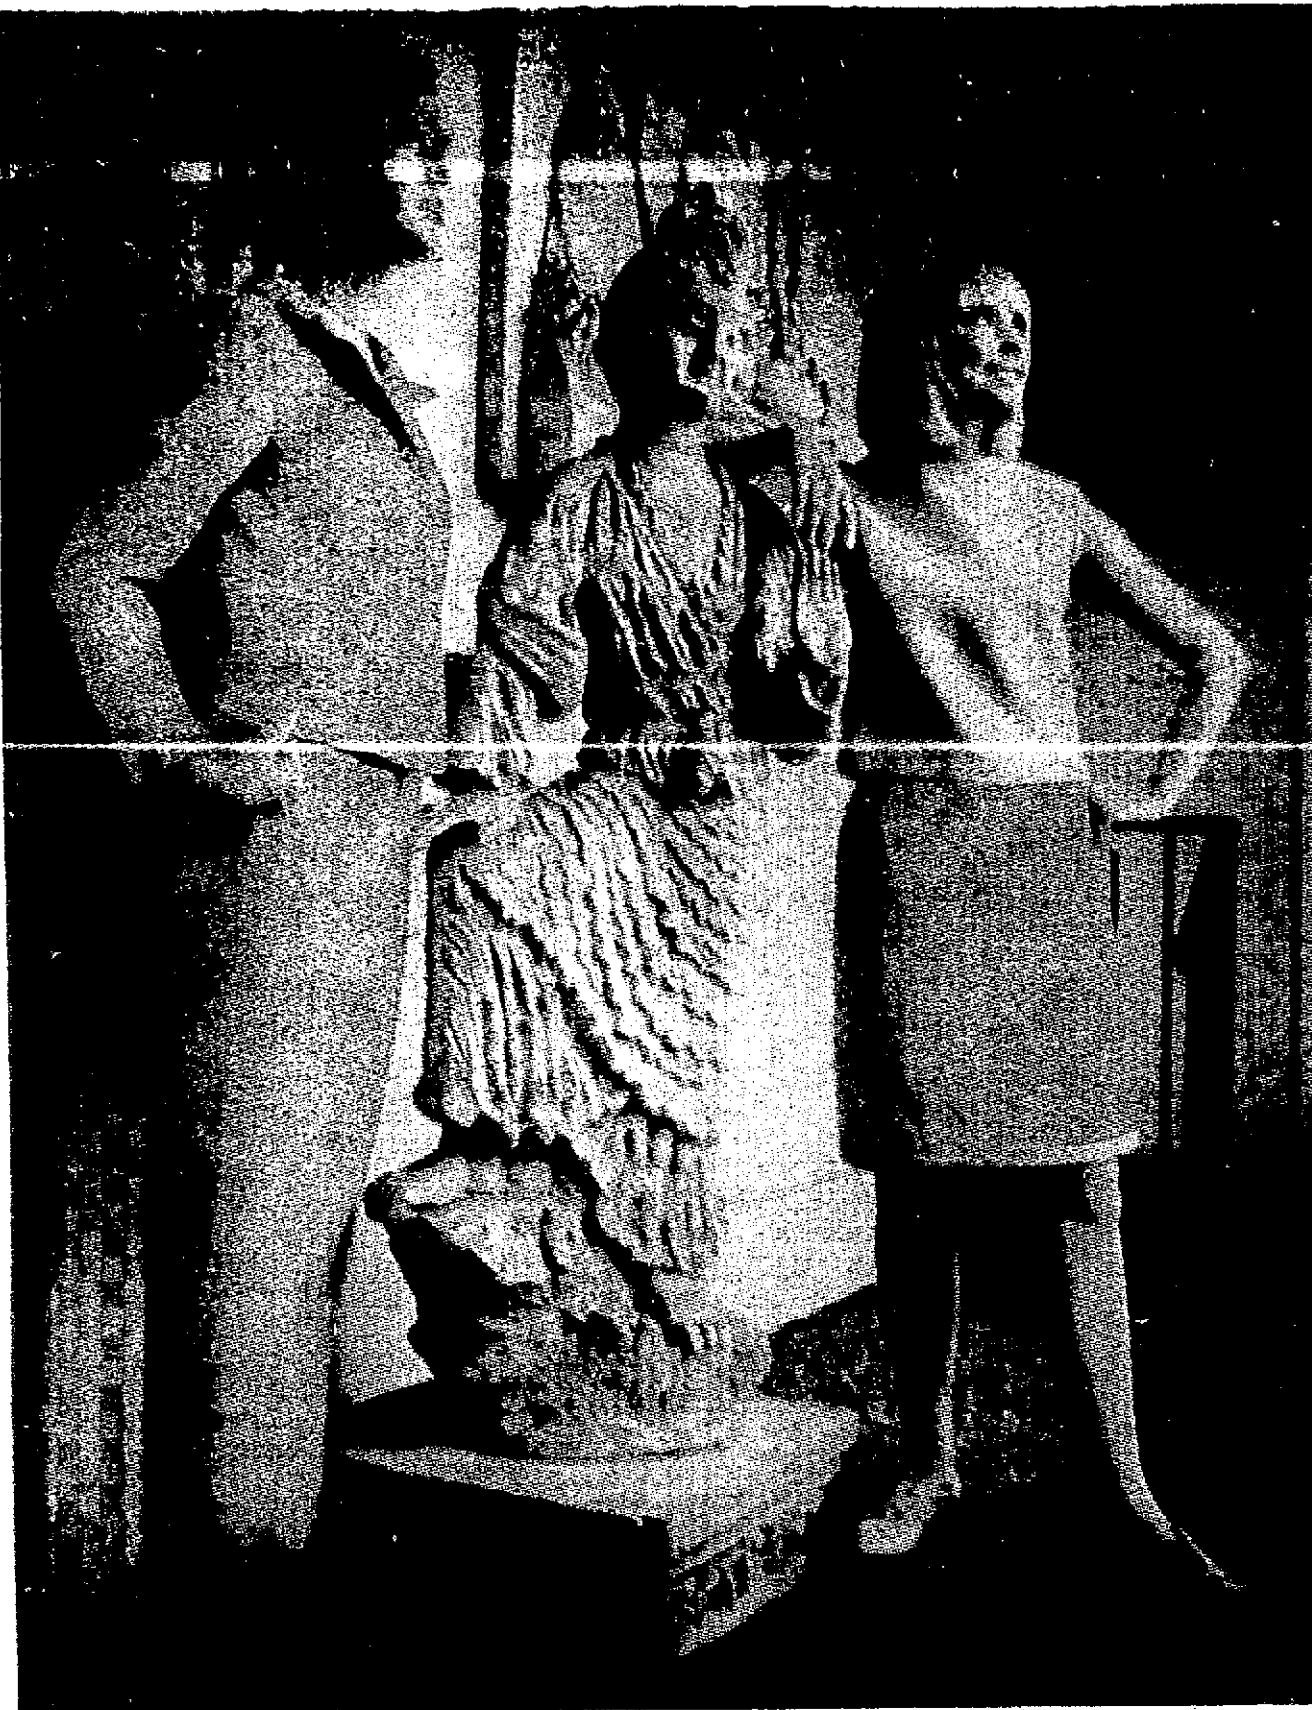

Dates are different. So is the family, gathered around the tree on Christmas eve, when one of the nicest presents they can give each other is to be all dressed up. This is the year to wear the prettiest—in velvet, light weight wool, raw silk, for the people who mean the most. It does something to a girl's image of herself, to be at her best. What better time?

Hot Colors for Cold Evenings or warm holiday wishes are both spelled out in the versatile four-piece pantsuit in a raw silk-like fabric called jut-tah cloth. The long sleeved jacket over the shell switches from tapered pants to the modified A-frame skirt. At right, tissue-weight wool is woven like fine linen in pale pink or aqua in this ladylike dress-up costume. The jacket is trimmed with white crocheted rickrack.

Your Problems

Wife Relieves Guilt Feelings By Confessing All to Husband

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am an Air Force officer who has learned a lot from your column. I am always surprised when I read about husbands who want to drag confessions out of their wives. My problem is just the opposite. I wish my wife would keep quiet.

I recently returned from serving several months in Spain. The first thing my wife hit me with was the details of her love affair with an ex-sweetheart. I told her I didn't want to hear about it—that eight months was a long time to be without a husband. I said I forgave her and to please stop talking about it.

She is wonderful to me while I am at home and I am willing to settle for that, which some people say is crazy, but it's the way I see it.

My wife insists she must purge herself of guilt by reciting every detail of her escapades. This bothers me to the point where I am thinking about packing my bags permanently. Can you help?—A.A.F.

Dear A.A.F.: Your wife's "purging" has a streak of sadism which you ought to recognize even if she does not.

If you are willing to settle for being treated well when you are at home (that's some settlement, huh) the least she can do is respect your wishes. Suggest that the doll purge herself by unloading on a clergyman or a counselor or someone who can listen without becoming emotionally involved.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Our son, a college senior, is engaged to marry a 20-year-old girl. She is a bright and attractive psychology major and we like her. The only thing that bothers us is that she is still talking baby talk.

For yes she says, "goo goo." No is "noo noo." Dinner is "din din," and water is "wa wa." We find this annoying and feel that our son will hate it after they are married. Should I say something to her privately?—I.M.L.

Dear I.: If your son grows to hate it, he'll let her know. They say love is blind and, apparently in this case, it is also deaf. Keep quiet.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Please tell me what to do before I go out of my mind. Our next door neighbors have two teen-age daughters. These girls have a record player which goes for six and seven hours at a stretch. Some days I could swear they are playing the same record over and over again twenty or thirty times. My husband has heart trouble and is very nervous. He can't stand any noise. Our own grandchildren have to walk around in their stocking feet when they come over, yet these kids next door are practically breaking our eardrums.

It is 4 p.m. now and the racket has been going since 10:00 a.m. Our windows are closed, but their windows are open. Will you please tell me what to do?—C.T.

Dear C.T.: They say you can catch more flies with honey than with vinegar. Have you tried it?

Explain to the girls that your husband is ill and their loud music is hard on his nerves. Ask them to please turn down the music player and to keep their windows closed. It may surprise you to find that if you request rather than demand—if you make them feel that they are doing you a favor—you'll get better results.

Do you feel ill at ease... out of it? Is everybody having a good time but you? Write for Ann Landers' booklet, "The Key To Popularity," enclosing with your request 35 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope. (Copyright, 1966)

Council Gets Plan For 15 Miles of Street Resurfacing

Committee Also Proposes Change In Rubbish-Garbage Collection

The second phase of Appleton's five-year plan for street resurfacing was outlined at Wednesday night's city council meeting, calling for about 15 miles of roadway to be facelifted in 1967.

Ald. Roy Pointer (14th), council president and chairman of the street-sanitation committee, presided over the committee of the whole meeting which followed the regular council session.

At the same time, it was disclosed that the department of public works is considering a revision in garbage-rubbish collection operations. This would necessitate purchase of different type equipment, for which money already is in next year's budget.

List Priorities

Aldermen were presented with a list of streets to be resurfaced next year with top priority to those that were on this year's schedule but not completed.

Pointer said the committee hoped to advertise for bids on the resurfacing program sometime in January and get the program started early in 1967.

Pointer said the firm getting the contract for the work, which is expected to cost more than $15,000 a mile, will be required to remain on city projects until they are completed.

He noted there has been unfavorable experience with some contractors pulling off municipal jobs to do private work, and then returning later to finish up the city work.

Pointer emphasized this sort of thing would not be tolerated in the future.

Plan 15 Miles

While 15 miles of resurfacing has been scheduled for the coming year, Pointer indicated it was hoped to get about 12 miles finished for certain.

Considerable work will be done in the outlying wards rather than close to the central city where College Avenue will be torn up and reconstructed.

Pointer explained this was the reason for concentrating on several near downtown streets in starting the resurfacing program this year.

He said, due to unforeseen problems — some of the streets were in too bad a condition to resurface and need to be rebuilt — only about half the amount of roadways scheduled for rejuvenation were worked on in 1966.

Reverting back to the garbage-rubbish program, Pointer said that with the council's permission the city will experiment this winter with so-called train-type equipment (a chain of refuse containers pulled by a truck or jeep).

A film on the process of collecting and hauling garbage and rubbish through this method was shown the council by a representative of LoDal, Inc. of Kingsford, Mich., manufacturer and distributor of train transfer systems.

For W. Wisconsin Avenue

9-Block Land Area Plan To be Completed Soon

Arno Haering, assistant director of the Fox Valley Regional Planning Commission, Wednesday reported plans for a nine-block generalized commercial land-use plan for W. Wisconsin Avenue will be completed by the end of this week.

Haering, Appleton city planner, said the plan was developed by the Northside Advancement Association after working on the plan since early November.

The first sketch was presented for consideration by the association Nov. 10. Haering has drawn additional plans since the meeting.

The complete set of drawings includes both sides of W. Wisconsin Avenue from Richmond Street on the west to Morrison Street on the east. The southern boundary reaches to Summer Street. On the north side, the area included extends about 250 feet from Wisconsin Avenue.

Four fire units were dispatched to the home of Kenneth Wienandt, 1506 W. Melvin St., at 5:37 a.m. Wednesday after smoke began pouring into all three floors of the building.

Young Offenders Continue To Plague Appleton Police

Teen-Agers Caught for Burglary; Drunken Girl, 15, Found in Alley

Problems with teen-age offenders continue to plague Appleton police who Wednesday night dealt with two youths who stole church donations and a sweater, three youths who were caught in the Knights of Pythias Hall and a drunken girl found lying in a downtown alley.

All of the youths were 15 years old. Those caught for the burglaries and thefts were placed in juvenile custody at the county jail, while the girl was released to her father who police said "carried" her from the police station. A police captain found her lying behind the H. C. Prange Co. about 9:15 p.m.

Police received a telephone call at 10:50 p.m. reporting three youths had entered the Knights of Pythias Hall at 205 E. Lawrence St. A patrolman who responded to the call said he found the rear door ajar and a small window broken. He heard "muffled talking" inside the building, then heard footsteps near the rear entrance.

Upon spotting the youths running from the building, he ordered them to halt. When they kept running, he shouted an order to halt or he would shoot. The youths stopped and raised their hands, the patrolman said.

The third youth escaped, but was identified and was apprehended at his home. On questioning, one of the youths told police that he and one of the others apprehended at the Knights of Pythias Hall, were involved in several other burglaries in the past couple of weeks.

He admitted they burglarized Jackson School and the Christian and Missionary Alliance Church this week. Police were told the youths broke a boiler room window at Jackson School where they then went into the office, opened a safe and stole about $50 or $60. They also took a large quantity of savings stamps which they later dumped into street sewers on the northeast side.

Entry into the church was gained by breaking a basement window.

Search Continues for Youth Who Slashed Appleton Boy Tuesday

Appleton police are continuing their search for a youth in tight black pants and wearing black boots, who slashed the face of a 13-year-old boy on N. Mason Street Tuesday.

The east-side boy described the older youth as about 17 to 19, with dark hair worn over his forehead, and weighing from 160 to 180 pounds. The youth reportedly has a bad complexion and was wearing a navy blue coat.

Police were told the youth grabbed the younger boy by the front of the jacket and slashed the left side of his face with a sharp object.

The attack occurred about 7:45 a.m. in the 2500 block of N. Mason Street, police said. Authorities asked anyone having information concerning the attack to contact the Appleton Police Department.

'Playing With Dynamite'

The Appleton Council was warned Wednesday night it was "playing with dynamite" in considering changes now in the proposed operation of the Soldiers Square parking ramp.

Ald. John Ayers (12th), chairman of the council's public safety committee, made the admonishment as the question system of having a metered versus cashier system type of operation arose.

The 450-car, four-level ramp, now well under construction was designed for parking meters so the facility could be open around the clock like the city's East and West Ramps.

Earlier in the week a Detroit parking consultant, who designed the ramp, told a group of city officials he has always been personally anti-meter and preferred cashier systems. It was pointed out that of the 100 ramps he has designed during the past year, all but six were for private concerns.

At any rate, the council is divided on what kind of a system to install in the ramp when it is opened next spring. The council was discussing the possibility of having a survey made by an outside firm at an estimated $200 to $300 on the merits of meters versus a cashier-type system. No one was sure about the cost.

Aldermen have been advised by stationing a cashier at the end of the expressway ramp, it will be necessary to close the Lawrence Street exit.

Salaries Hiked At City Hall

Pay Increases to Cost Appleton Additional $24,000

General city hall employees, including appointive department heads, received $35 across the board monthly pay raises as result of action by the Appleton Council Wednesday night.

The chief said he had not ruled out the possibility of arson. When firemen arrived about 6:45 p.m., the building was already in flames and heavy gray smoke was billowing from the roof.

Gas from burned and broken pipes fed the flames and caused small explosions. Insulation and furring strips on the roof increased temperatures and fed the blaze.

The fire was brought under

Firemen's Contract

In other action, the council also approved a 1967 contract with the Appleton firemen's union which called for blanket pay raises and sick leave fringe benefits which will cost the city an additional $46,000 yearly.

The council acted on several other matters, including:

—Confirmation of the appointment of Lloyd Koehnke to the post of city recreation director.

—Confirming the mayor's appointment of George Leary, chief of personnel for the district office of the Wisconsin Telephone Co., to the council's personnel committee until April 1, 1967.

Assessment Freeze —Approval of the mayor's appointment of a committee to discuss the pros and cons of an assessment freeze policy, the members including: Mayor or Buckley, Assessor John Pierre, City Atty. David Geenen, City Planner Walter Rasmussen, Finance Director Henry Schreve, Alds. Roy Pointer (14th) and Al Stoegebauer (4th), John B. Torinus and Otto Bytof.

Disapproval of a planning commission report calling for rezoning from single family residential to commercial light manufacturing property on the southwest corner of Prospect Avenue and Haskell Street.

However, a public hearing will still be scheduled on the rezoning which has been objected to by Ald. John MacDonald (7th), alderman of the ward.

Gas Fed Fire Razes Plant At Green Bay

Cause Undetermined; Manufacturing Firm Loses Equipment

Post-Crescent News Service

GREEN BAY — Flames, spread by gas from a pipe, destroyed an east side ware house and manufacturing plant Wednesday night.

The brick and metal structure, about 120 feet long and 60 feet wide, was gutted as the roaring inferno of undetermined origin resulted in destruction totaling an estimated $75,000.

Housed in the building were the offices of Wisconsin Cheese Exchange and the Green Bay Bedding and Supply Co. machines, materials and other equipment. Equipment owned by Immel Construction Co. was also stored in part of the building.

Scene Investigated

Fire Chief David Zuidmolder said inspectors were investigating the fire scene today. He said the blaze could have started from faulty wiring because of the amount of electrical power entering the Green Bay Bedding and Supply Co. to service several sewing machines, electrical cutters and other equipment.

The chief said he had not ruled out the possibility of arson. When firemen arrived about 6:45 p.m., the building was already in flames and heavy gray smoke was billowing from the roof.

Gas from burned and broken pipes fed the flames and caused small explosions. Insulation and furring strips on the roof increased temperatures and fed the blaze.

185 Property Owners Between Drew, Richmond Streets to Pay $104.29 Per Lineal Foot

Reconstruction of Appleton's Board officials have promised to allocate to the project. On the subject of the county's proposed contribution, Mayor George Buckley informed the board and the council he had conferred earlier in the day with Sylvester Esler, board chairman, who said the city could expect to receive the $100,000 in June or July of next year.

Esler told me that, in his opinion, the money is practically assured," Buckley said. "He asked that I make the announcement tonight."

Last week a city delegation met with Esler and other county officials to seek financial aid for the College Avenue project, pointing out the street is part of the secondary highway system.

At that time a tentative commitment was made to have the funds appropriated. However, at a county board meeting later in the week the subject was never put before the supervisors and this aroused curiosity and concern on the part of city officials.

The $104.29 per lineal foot figure will be charged to property owners on each side of the avenue — having been arrived at after adding up the entire cost of the project and applying certain credits.

Skating Rinks Open Today In Appleton

Skating at Appleton's two sheltered ice rinks, Jones and Meade parks, opened at 1 p.m. today, according to Lloyd (Bud) Koehnke, city recreation director. The rinks will operate with supervision from 1 to 5 p.m. and from 6 to 9:30 p.m. daily during the holiday vacation season.

However, the rinks will close at 5 p.m. Saturday and will be closed all day Sunday, Christmas Day.

An additional eight rinks, which are prepared by recreation department crews but which are not supervised, will open Friday. They are Hoover, McKinley, Goodland, Packard, Kiwanis, Alicia, Pierce and Erb parks.

Crews also are working on rinks at school sites and expect to have them ready for operation by the middle of next week.

UW Campus Heads Warn 'No Cuts'

Kenosha, Green Bay Chancellors Insist Money Is Needed Now

MADISON — Strong warnings to make no further cuts in the budget requests for staffing and acquiring library materials for the two new campuses of the University of Wisconsin (UW) were given Gov. Warren P. Knowles Wednesday by the chancellors of the two new institutions.

Edward W. Weidner and Irvin Wylie, heads of the Green Bay and Parkside UW campuses, respectively, both told Knowles that the requests forwarded by the state Coordinating Committee for Higher Education for use during the coming two years in preparing for the opening of the schools represent the "bare bones" of an acceptable program.

Further cuts, they warned, will result in damage to the two institutions.

The schools are scheduled to open in the fall of 1969, but the university presented requests totaling $3,835,000 for the staffing of the two new colleges and the start of the acquisition and compilation of library materials for students during the next two years.

Need Teachers —Weidner, in a written statement to the Governor, said "We have only two and a half years before classes begin. In that time a full and excellent staff must be recruited in a very tight market. Innovation does not magically come by faculty members arriving a few days before classes begin."

By the start of next July, he said, the hiring of all major campus department heads and academic deans must be completed. That will mean the addition of 14 professional personnel and their clerical help.

Within the next year all the deputies of university department heads and deans must be hired, and chairmen picked for all major departments.

By July 1, 1969, Weidner said, all professors and staff members of the new campus must be hired.

Weidner also said more than a half dozen committees are at work to help channel ideas from all northeastern Wisconsin to the planners of the university.

Herein lies much of the innovative path for the University of Wisconsin-Green Bay (UW-Green Bay). To make this process effective, a budget must be provided that permits unlimited expansion.

LaFave Proposal

Beefed-Up Long Bridge Act Endorsed by Advisory Group

BY DON CASTONIA Post-Crescent Staff Writer NEENAH - MENASHA — The proposed Little Lake Butte des Morts bridge was given an indirect boost this morning by State Sen. Reuben LaFave, Oconto, who reported that his proposed new Long Bridge Act was endorsed unanimously by the Highway Advisory Committee last Tuesday. LaFave said the proposal is

Reid Course Improvements Are Approved

$9,553 Surplus Fund From 1965 Finances Projects

The park and recreation committee went on a spending spree Tuesday evening to insure a golf course fund totaling $9,553 was to benefit Reid Golf year.

To obtain the funds to finance his long bridge act, LaFave is proposing to take the "use" tax now paid on road construction machinery and the sales tax paid on the purchase of new machinery and set this aside for bridge construction. Those monies now go into the state's general fund.

No Prediction LaFave said he could not predict the success of his proposal because of the demands from many groups for tax monies. He felt the bill would meet approval in the state senate but with the change in leadership in the assembly he did not know what their position would be.

Regardless, LaFave said, "It is absolutely necessary to make a change. The present form of bridge aids is obsolete to the point of being non-existent."

Most of the major bridges in Approval was made to purchase a golf cart for $1,000. The cart is used to keep golfers moving during busy times. A total of $2,800 was approved to buy a tractor for golf course use. The item was previously deleted from the budget. A turf sweeper will also be purchased for $1,300. The remainder of the surplus, $4,453, will be placed in a fund to replace portions of the fence around the course.

The committee approved the appointment of Mitchell Joannes, a member of the Professional Golfers Association, as professional at the municipal golf course. Joannes will be paid $140 per week and receive profits from the pro shop and money collected for instructions. He will start April 15 and work through Oct. 15.

The ban on caddies was again approved. The committee said the ban was necessary due to workmen's compensation laws which make the caddy an employee of the city regardless if he is employed by an individual. The city would be responsible for any accidents incurred by caddies on the course.

In other action the committee:

Athletic Equipment — Opened four bids for a four-wheel drive vehicle to be used at the golf course. Action was delayed pending investigation of specifications.

— Opened bids for the city's supply of athletic equipment. Bids of three competing companies will be tabulated with winners notified.

— Opened bids for painting Mead Park swimming pool. The Erman Painting Co was awarded the bid for $875.

— Opened bids for 5,150 pounds of liquid chlorine to be used in the swimming pools. McKesson and Robbins received the contract for $975.

— Opened bids for swimming pool chemicals. Bids were considered from four companies.

Reconsideration of Cut in Neenah School Budget Fails

NEENAH — An attempt by two town chairmen to reconsider the $44,000 cut made in the school budget Monday stirred up city officials on a question of procedure but otherwise met with little success.

Frank Metzger, chairman of the Town of Clayton, surprised the council members at the start of the council session Wednesday by moving that the reconsideration motion be reconsidered only upon the public hearing on the 1967 budget.

The first item on the agenda too, had been a member of the proposed majority in the vote and his motion wasn't valid.

Schaller said no rules of order had been established for the town chairmen and councilmen meeting on school district mat with both police and fire men had approved the schoolers and later suggested the bargaining personnel in a budget with the cuts Monday group adopt the council rules to effort to settle the issue. The but the figures were only avoid confusion in the future committee since has scheduled estimates and the vocational. The town representatives and two meetings with police per-budget wasn't included in that approval. Metzger, who had voted against measure the staze were constructed early in the century, he said, and are now facing replacement with the major need being in the Fox River Valley.

Town of Menasha Chairman Roland Kampo has been leading a thus far unsuccessful fight to have a bridge built across Little Lake Butte des Morts. Under the present state funding system for bridges, a made available annually for bridge construction in the state, nearly double the $2.5 million he had predicted in September when he first introduced his proposal.

Only $200,000 Under the present state long bridge act, enacted in 1911, only $200,000 is available annually for bridge construction in the entire state.

The sharing formula provides that the state pay one-third of the cost, the county one-third and the local community where the bridge is to be built, one-third. This actually means, LaFave said, that instead of $4.8 million in bridge construction, almost $14.5 million worth of bridges could be built each year.

Rally Indicated By Market Gain Tradition Demands Advance Between Christmas, New Year

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market advanced today on the heaviest trading of the week, lending hope to Wall Street that a typical yearend rally may be in the making.

The tradition for a rise in stock prices between Christmas Eve and New Year's Eve is a very strong one. Prices gained ground in anticipation of this, brokers said, and also in a logical rebound from four days of decline.

The advance gathered strength despite the tendency of the market to pull back on Thursdays.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 1.9 at 296.6 with industrials up 2.5, rails up 1.3 and utilities up 1.0.

Rails, airlines, nonferrous metals, aerospace issues, tobacco, drugs and motors were among the advancing groups.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 3.62 at 801.05.

Selected Gainers Wilson & Co. was up 6 at 61 1/4 on 15,000 shares after rising to 61 1/2 on a 20,000-share block. Ling-Temco-Vought has offered $62 a share for 750,000 shares of the stocks. LTV rose more than 3.

American Broadcasting was up 2 1/4 at 87 3/4. International Telephone was off a fraction.

Late Wednesday the Federal Communications Commission gave a green light to the proposed merger of ABC with IT&T.

Air Reduction rose another 2 points in further response to its raised dividend and proposed stock split.

Anaconda climbed 3 points, Xerox 2, New York Central nearly 2.

Western Union rose 1 1/2 to 38 1/2 on 20,000 shares.

Prices advanced in active trading on the American Stock Exchange.

The council committee and council recognized the local for the fire department earlier this year and was presented a proposed contract by the union.

Many items in the contract such as longevity pay, sick leave and vacation plan now are being received by firemen, but have never been spelled out in contract form.

The proposed contract requests changes in some benefits as well as new classifications of men within the department with salary increases in specialized areas and a general wage hike of $85 per month.

Hospital Bed Is Decorated For Christmas

NEENAH — The Christmas spirit, in the form of brownies, elves, gnomes and Santas, has been flowing in and out of room 239 at Theda Clark for three weeks — to cheer one small boy, Karl Hildebrand.

Confined to traction for a broken right leg for this time, the number three son of Dr. and Mrs. Fredric Hildebrand, captured a lot of attention with his smile, energy and mother's ingenuity for seasonal decoration on the hospital bed and in the room. The five-year-old reigned for a time as the petite king of Santaland.

The fractured leg was dealt him between halves of the Packer-Viking game. He joined his older brothers Bill and Fritz in a spot of touch football during the intermission and was hurt in an end run through the dormant flower bed.

A cast from waist to toe will keep him inert for six weeks but he is expecting his kindergarten pals from Wilson School to stop by regularly for an exchange of what's going on.

Home since late Monday, Karl is a very happy little boy his mother reports. "He doesn't bend well at all these days but everyone of us is glad to be a whole family again."

Neenah Employees Lack New Salary Schedules

NEENAH — City employees will go into the new year without new salary contracts since no city meetings have been scheduled before January and the salary ordinance probably won't be adopted until sometime in February.

The firemen still haven't come to terms with the finance committee over the 1967 contract and now the contract for the city's policemen, thought to be settled Dec. 13, will be further studied by the councilmen.

Members of the Neenah Professional Policeman's Association voted to accept the finance committee's offer of a 4 1/2-hour week with 2 1/2 hours considered overtime and paid at a rate of time and one-half.

Wisconsin Cheese

MADISON (AP)—The Wisconsin Cheddar Cheese market was unsettled this week with a fair to good demand, the agricultural marketing service reported Thursday. Supplied continued adequate to fully ample.

Cheese production in the week ending Dec. 15 increased one per cent in both the United States and Wisconsin. Production, estimated at 21 million pounds, was 29 per cent more than in the same week last year.

The Wisconsin cheese market was about steady. Prices were unchanged and buying interest was irregular.

Because of the holiday weekend, the market review was made available Thursday instead of Friday.

Engineers Send Bridge Reports To Washington

Corps of Engineers Completes Report on Butte des Morts Span

OSHKOSH — Representative-elect William A. Steiger announced Wednesday that reports on the proposed new bridges across Lake Butte des Morts on U. S. 41 in Winnebago County have been completed by the Chicago District office of the Corps of Engineers and have been forwarded to Washington, D.C.

The U. S. Army Corps of Engineers office in Chicago was delayed in submitting its report on the recommendations for bridge height on the proposed bridge structures. Steiger said that he had, on Oct. 8, announced that a decision was due in six weeks time from the Corps of Engineers.

Indiana Project "However," Steiger stated, "due to the Indiana dunes project the Chicago office was unable to complete its report on schedule and thus was delayed in making its recommendation to Washington for a final determination."

Steiger met with Col. Edward E. Bennett, chief of the regional office, in Chicago last Friday and discussed the Butte des Morts bridge project with him. Col. Bennett informed Steiger that a report could be expected "in a matter of a few weeks" from the Washington headquarters of the Corps of Engineers.

The Corps is acting on the request made by the Wisconsin Highway Department for the construction of an additional two lane bridge over Lake Butte des Morts plus the reconstruction of the present bridge. In both cases, the department requested a bridge 30 to 35 feet high. This question is before the Corps of Engineers for determination.

Fund for Hilbert Boy's Heart Surgery Mounts

HILBERT — Contributions are beginning to flow into the State Bank of Hilbert here for the "New Heart for Scott Boesch Fund" established at the bank to help defray expenses of rare heart surgery performed on the two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Boesch, route 1, Hilbert.

Surgery to transplant the pulmonary vein performed by a staff of heart specialists at Madison General Hospital last Thursday, is expected to cost $5,000. Special "A negative" type blood was donated at a Neenah-Menasha blood center the previous day for the open heart operation. More surgery is planned in about two years to repair a hole in the child's heart.

Court Appoints Attorney for Appleton Youth

Terry Lee Robinson, 18, 1103 1/2 W. Lawrence St., was found indigent when he was arraigned Wednesday afternoon on a charge of operating a car without the owner's consent.

Outagamie County Judge Gustave J. Keller, after finding the youth indigent, appointed attorney Heber H. Pelkey at county expense. He then continued the case to 8:45 a.m. Friday and ordered bond of $2,000.

Robinson allegedly took a 1958 auto, belonging to William Lambe of Kaukauna, from a parking lot behind Appleton Car Wash on N. Richmond Street Tuesday night.

The car, occupied by Robinson and another 18-year-old Appleton youth, struck a utility pole in Menasha about 8:30 p.m. Tuesday. The second youth was not charged.

window. They apparently took nothing from the church.

On further questioning, the youths admitted breaking into St. Thomas More School early last Saturday morning. They broke several door glasses and windows and stole $30 or $35 from the office, they said.

They also admitted three house burglaries on N. McDonaid Street last week. Liquor, money and a pistol were taken in the burglaries.

Spent Money

The youths said they spent most of the money obtained in the house and school burglaries to play pool, gamble, eat and drink.

Two other 15-year-olds were placed in custody after they stole a sweater from the W. A. Close store, 200 E. College Ave. Police apprehended the youths after a chase that ended at a downtown restaurant.

Police said they believe the same pair also was involved in the theft of an undetermined amount of money from St. Joseph School, 404 W. Lawrence St., Wednesday night.

The money was in a pile of donation envelopes on a hallway table.

A trail of empty envelopes led to the west entrance of the school where 31 empty envelopes were found. The youths reportedly overlooked about $6.85 in envelopes which they discarded.

Cookies that were near the money on the hallway table also were missing, police were told. Identification of the youths was made by other persons in the building.

Kaukauna Commission Seeks Added Strength

Referendum to be Placed on Spring Election Asking Jurisdiction for Police, Fire Group

KAUKAUNA — A referendum will be presented to the electors next spring to determine if the police and fire commission should be granted additional powers.

The referendum was approved by the city council Tuesday night.

Currently the police and fire commission has the power to appoint department chiefs and take part in department disciplinary problems.

The proposed referendum will permit them to organize and supervise departments, prescribe rules and regulations for their control and management, contract for and purchase all equipment and supplies, audit all claims, bills and expenses and in general have complete control over departments with council approval.

Appointed Positions

Fire and police commission members are appointed to office by the mayor with the approval of the council.

Aldermen authorized a 2-man committee to investigate purchase of 14 acres of Chicago and North Western Railway Co. property and to have an area survey made if necessary prior to entering into final purchase agreement. The city proposes to purchase the land for $84,700.

control about 8:30 p.m. but firemen remained at the scene until nearly 11 p.m.

Two pumpers, a tanker, a rescue squad and chief's car answered the first alarm and a second pumper was called in about 20 minutes later.

One official said Green Bay Bedding and Supply Co. was in the process of the transferring equipment to another location.

and permit firms presently leasing buildings to remain as tenants until Aug. 15.

The council has received letters from Combined Paper Mills and Kimberly-Clark Corp. asking to be kept informed on developments as both are currently leasing buildings as warehouse space.

A request from city employees Local 130 to serve as bargaining agent for park department employees in wage negotiations was referred to the board of public works. A letter by Mayor Gilbert Anderson to Walter Johnson, State Department of Resource Development director, asking latest developments in the city's application for federal aids to implement a master comprehensive plan for the city was approved.

Insurance Bid

Lone bid of $9,099 for workmen's compensation and liability insurance was accepted, the bid was submitted by Century Insurance.

The city treasurer was authorized to hire additional help during tax collection time.

Approval was given to the extension of Sullivan Avenue to St. Mary Place and extension of St. Mary Place from Hendricks to Sullivan avenues. Action was taken to put the streets on the official map, thereby qualifying for additional state street aids.

Approval was given to the Thelen Estates Plat following recommendations from the planning commission to have 40-ft wide surface drainage easements and pedestrian walk easements included in the plat plan. Elm Street was made a part of the truck route in the city as recommended by the board of public works.

Assessments Indicated

A preliminary resolution was approved indicating assessments will be made for the grading and graveling of Glenview Avenue extended from 17th to Henry Street and the extension of Henry Street from Glenview Avenue to a point approximately 500 feet east of Glenview.

Aldermen approved drafting of an ordinance which will require all city employees to retire when they reach the age of 65. The legislative committee was authorized to meet with the city engineer to discuss a possible ordinance pertaining to special assessments.

The board of public works announced plans to develop a ski slide, trailer court and recreation area near the Grignon Home as required by a resolution adopted by the County Board when the property was deeded to the city.

Salary Granted

Approval was given to grant the assistant street superintendent pay normally scheduled for the superintendent while he is serving in that capacity. Quentin Driessen, assistant, has been serving as superintendent since William Lambie resigned Oct. 12. He will also receive the $10 per month car allowance.

Walter Rutten informed the council he would not assume cost of changing house numbers on Walter Street as ordered by the council at the first meeting this month. Rutten will be asked to meet with the board of public works to discuss the matter.

Number changes were approved after it was pointed out some houses on the street duplicated numbers which made it difficult for emergency equipment if summoned to a number on that street.

ing reared the consultant's advice.

Pinpointing the major point in favor of a cashier system was Ald. Paul Klemmer (11th) who said it would be more of a convenience to the public. He said motorists would not have to worry about meters expiring and having to pay the $1 fine.

He said with the cashier system motorists would be paying for the amount of time they parked in the ramp and would not have to worry about being ticketed for overparking.

Cost Same

"The cost between one or another system is not a great deal of difference," Klemmer said.

Ald. R. P. Groh raised questions about a cashier system and said he had serious doubt whether it would work in the Soldiers Square ramp. He advocated use of the ramp around the clock.

Groh said under a cashier system the motorist starts paying from the minute he enters the ramp until he leaves, with the city actually making money on so-called "dead time."

Sen. Nelson Proposes Plan To Save Wolf

move quickly to preserve a significant portion of the river for posterity, Nelson told Udall.

Nelson has been urging the Interior Department for several months to grant the money necessary to buy the frontage in Langlade County. The Interior Department has held off acting on this request, apparently because of uncertainty about the river's long range future.

In the last session of Congress, the administration's wild rivers bill signaled out seven rivers, mostly in the west, for inclusion in a national wild rivers system, and included a small section of the Wolf in Menominee County for "study" for possible inclusion in the system at a later date.

Died in House

Nelson was a co-sponsor of that bill, which passed the Senate but died in the House.

In his letter to Udall Thursday, Nelson said that ample "study" information was already available and the Wolf should be advanced from the "study" category to be included outright in the proposed national wild rivers system.

With Udall's endorsement, Nelson said he thought he would have no difficulty in getting such legislation through the Senate Interior Committee.

When and if such legislation is enacted, Nelson suggested that the Langlade County stretch of the river remain under state administration, while the rest of the Wolf included in the national wild rivers system would be administered by the Interior Department.

Nelson asked to meet with Udall next week to discuss his proposal.

Car Hits Pedestrians On College Avenue; Both Taken to Hospital

Francis D. Heesakker, 42, 614 S. Buchanan St., Little Chute, Outagamie County veterans service officer, was hospitalized with a broken leg, cuts and bruises after he and an Appleton woman were struck by a car near downtown Appleton Wednesday night.

The woman, Kathleen A. Agnew, 601 W. Michigan St., received cuts and bruises. Both were taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital by Larry's Ambulance. The woman was later released.

Appleton police said they were struck by a car driven by Joan M. Yogerst, 23, route 1, Hortonville, as they crossed W. College Avenue at Locust Street, from the north side of the street.

Miss Yogerst said she did not see the pedestrians until it was too late to avoid hitting them.

The Yogerst car sustained damage to the hood.

iversity, college and department officials to be on hand sufficiently in advance to benefit from community advice. At the department level this requires at least a year and at the college and university level two years.

Weidner also touched on plans for applied research to aid the northeastern Wisconsin region.

"UW-Green Bay desires to further the state's and area's economic, social and administrative development by hiring an initial group of four to six faculty members in regional development and environmental sciences during 1967-68. They would carry out applied research in northeastern Wisconsin in these areas and work with community leaders."

Weidner said the Green Bay institution will be a four-campus university.

The headquarters will be at Green Bay, he said, but the Fox Valley, Manitowoc and Marinette centers will be integral parts of the new program.

Discussions with community leaders have already started, he said. Administrative responsibility for the existing two-year centers will be transferred to the new Green Bay campus in July, 1968.

To carry out such an ambitious program will require immediate action to bring the four campuses together "as a single unity — a unity that will plan and carry out vital and regionally relevant new curriculum," Weidner said.

Lombardi Puts Bays Through Timing Drill

Allotment of 3,500 Tickets Gone for Contest at Dallas

GREEN BAY (AP) — The Green Bay Packers resumed drills Wednesday, after a cover of snow was scraped from the field, in preparation for their national Football League Title game at Dallas Jan. 1.

Coach Vince Lombardi held a loosening up drill and worked on timing with quarterback Bart Starr and guard Fuzzy Thurston on hand. They were without action in last week's regular season finale at Los Angeles.

A workout is set for today and another for Friday before the team takes a two day holiday recess. The Packers, NFL defending champions, fly to Tulsa, Okla., Monday to iron out wrinkles before tackling the Cowboys.

Meanwhile the Packers said they were oversubscribed with ticket orders for the title game. "We're completely sold out," said Tom Miller, Lombardi's assistant as general manager. "We were allotted 3,500 tickets and they were gone in no time."

Chuters' Rally Falls Short

FVL '5' Shades St. John

BY RON WITT

News-Record Staff Writer

Fox Valley Lutheran fought off a ferocious fourth quarter rally with free throws in the final 1:02 of play to edge past Little Chute St. John, 65-63, in a non-conference battle at the FVL gym Wednesday night.

Diminutive Foxes guard Howie Korth, in his best scoring effort of his varsity career with 24 points, canned the two most important charity tosses with 1:02 remaining to give the Foxes a seemingly safe margin at 64-57.

But the determined Dutchmen, who had been trailing by as much as 19 points in the early moments of the final period, managed to cram in two more buckets and a pair of free throws in that last 62 seconds before they ran out of time.

The final quarter started innocently enough, as the Foxes appeared they would be able to coast home. With just 6:08 showing on the clock, Dave Tiedt connected on two free throws to increase FVL's spread to 54-35. Then the fireworks started, as the Chuters' pressure tactics dissipated the FVL lead from 56-37 to 56-48, and 58-50 to 60-57.

Little Chute's Dennis Locy pushed in a rebound goal with less than 10 seconds left to make it 65-63, but Dave Tiedt did some fancy dribbling to run out the clock.

Outscored from the field by a 27-21 margin, and beaten on the boards, 38-27, the Foxes won the game from the foul line, sinking 23 out of 40 free attempts.

Korth popped in 10 of 13 tries, and Dave Tiedt, who wound up second high scorer with 21 points, connected on seven of nine tosses. St. John, meanwhile, could garner only nine of 16 attempts from the line.

The visitors had jumped off to a 4-3 lead in the first two of minutes, and increased the advantage to 14-7 after buckets by Lloyd Hackel and Tom Felzer, at the 4:20 mark. But Tiedt hit twice from close range, and Korth added a driving layup and three free throws to bring the Foxes back within one at the quarter, 18-17.

Korth's long jumper reclaimed the FVL lead, at 21-20, early in the second period, and Foxes owned a 33-27 spread at the half. St. John had a bad time shooting in the second quarter, making only three of 12 shots from the field.

Then things got worse for the Chuters in the third frame, when they could drop only three of 16 attempts to trail, 48-33, at the buzzer.

FVL outshot the losers for the night, pouring in 21 of 51, for 41.1 per cent. St. John's wound up 27 for 70, for 38.5 per cent.

Coach Gerhard Kaniess & Company are now 3-4 for the season, while Avitus Rippl's squad dropped to 4-4.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Super Bowl — championship of the two professional football leagues — has received 21,000 orders for tickets in two days.

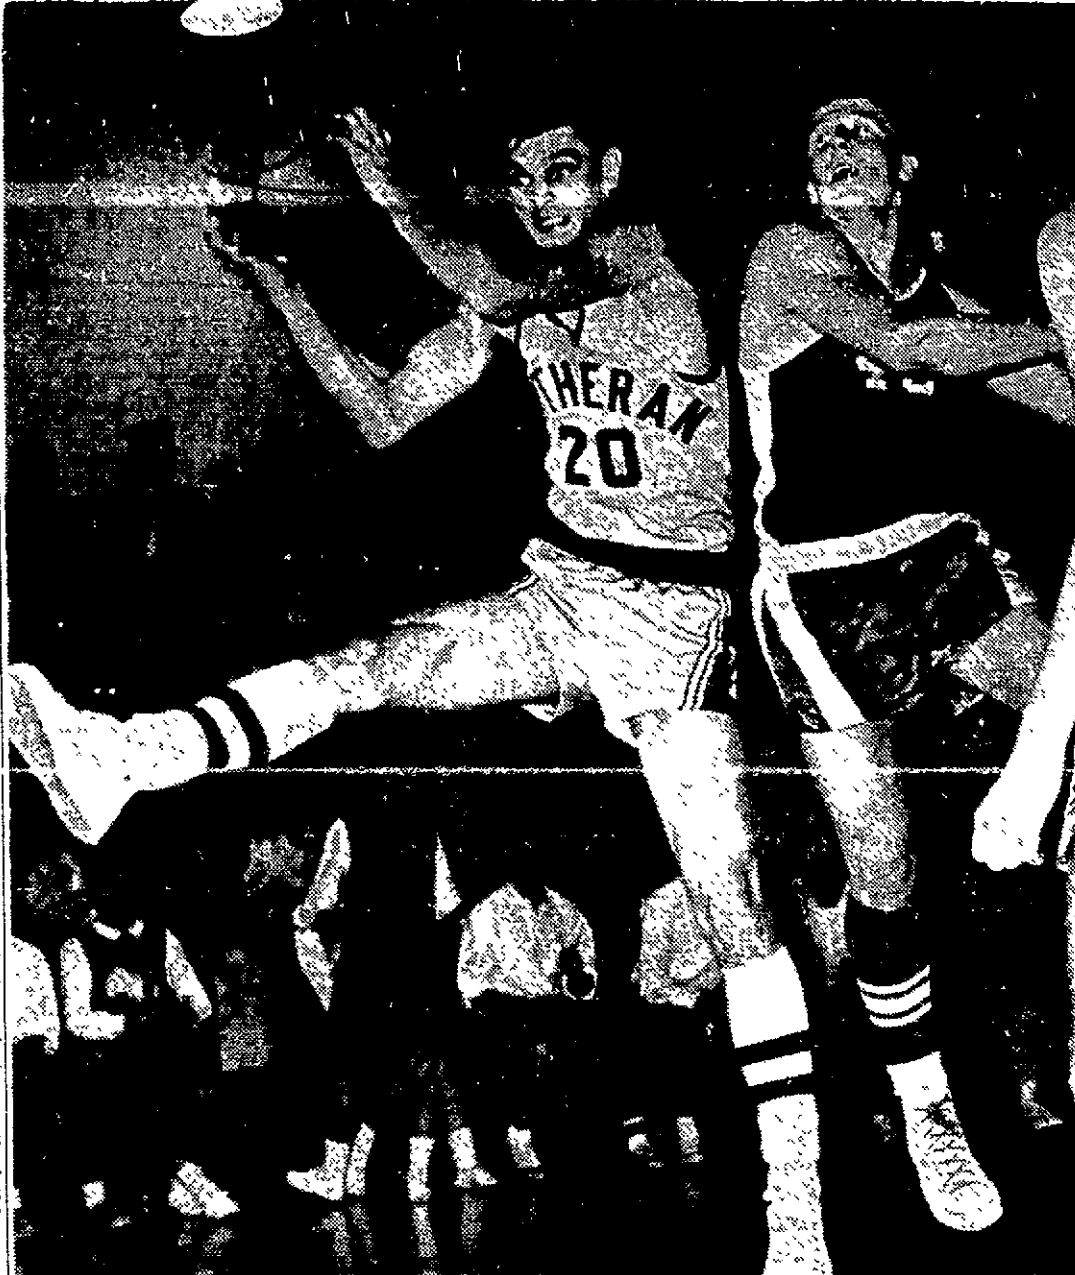

The first contest matching the winners of the National and American football leagues will be played Jan. 15 in the 92,000-seat Memorial Coliseum.

A spokesman said the ticket demand was the heaviest in Coliseum history for a short period.

The visitors had jumped off to a 4-3 lead in the first two of minutes, and increased the advantage to 14-7 after buckets by Lloyd Hackel and Tom Felzer, at the 4:20 mark. Set Record for Trapping QBs

Starr Could be in for Roughest Day Against Cowboys' Front Four

DALLAS (AP) — The Dallas Cowboys' chances of beating Green Bay Jan. 1 for the National Football League championship might well hinge on the performance of their front four.

For the information of Bart Starr, Green Bay's great quarterback, this fearsome foursome has been doing things to quarterbacks that disconcert them, to put it mildly.

Coach Tom Landry of the Cowboys does not go in for blitzing much. "When you blitz, you weaken yourself for the big play," says Landry. "You have to rely on man to man coverage in the secondary."

But the pass rush of his front four is something else.

The quartet — George Andrie and Willie Townes at ends, Bob Lilly and Jim Colvin or Jethro Pugh at tackles — set a National Football League record for trapping the quarterback this year.

They did it 60 times during the season, three times more than the record set by Baltimore in 1964.

Against Pittsburgh the front four trapped the quarterback 12 times — a single game record.

With Lilly not even in there, they took down the New York quarterback nine times last Sunday as Dallas won 17-7.

This foursome, averaging almost 260 pounds to the man, not only is the most effective in the league but also about the youngest.

Colvin is the oldest at 28, Lilly is 27, Andrie 26 and Pugh and Townes 26 each.

This means Dallas can expect to have the leading front four in the league for several years.

They hope to start one of those years by bringing Dallas the NFL championship. Hear that Mr. Starr?

CHICAGO (AP) — The entire Chicago Bears' coaching staff will be retained for next year, owner-coach George Halas said Wednesday night.

"I'm not contemplating any changes in coaching personnel and I never have," said Papa Bear, who will return for his 40th season as head coach.

Meanwhile, tight safety Richie Petitbon, an eight-year veteran, said he would like to finish his career in his hometown of New Orleans, which has been awarded a National Football League franchise for 1967.

Petitbon, a Tulane graduate and a Pro Bowl choice, said: "I'm not saying I will quit football if the Bears don't trade me, but if I can work it out with the Bears, I would like to play in New Orleans. Two years from now, I plan to retire from football."

Limits Foes To 6 Points In 2 Periods

WISCONSIN RAPIDS — Neenah, in forging a 69-50 triumph over Wisconsin Rapids here Wednesday night, outbounded, outshot and outran and, in general, made shambles out of the team that this week was ranked No. 2 in the Associated Press' state high school poll.

There was little as to the outcome after the first half of the first period when the Rockets began what was to be a series of spurts, rambling to commanding leads.

The pattern was set early. The Raiders would shoot from outside, and Neenah would gobble up the rebound and eventually put the ball through the nets for two points. On numerous other occasions, the Twin Citizens would steal the ball from unsuspecting Raider guards and also convert the thefts into scores.

The Mid-Eastern Conference leaders were in front by 10 points at the close of the first quarter, by 11 at halftime and 27 at the end of the third period.

31-Point Spread
They owned a 31-point spread (63-32) at one juncture in the final segment, and it was only after Coach Doug Martin started dispatching subs that the Raiders began to find the range, hitting 14 straight points. They slimmed the margin to 17 but never any lower.

The salient statistics in the winners' favor included only 10 fouls (none in the first period), a brilliant 10 of 15 from the floor in the third quarter, winning the battle of the boards by a considerable margin and limiting their foes to six points in both the first and third stanzas.

The victors scored the first six points of the game and after Rapids slimmed the margin to a point at 7-6, the former poured nine straight home for a 16-6 lead at the close of eight minutes.

33-22 at half
Wisconsin Rapids played its guests on almost even terms in the second segment, coming out on the short side of a 17-16 total, to trail by 33-22 at halftime.

The third stanza was the most productive for the Rockets and the killer for the Raiders. Rapids scored the first basket but Neenah made three in a row.

Al Ross put in two fielders and Gary Losse added one. Two came after thefts by the latter. Dan Blachfield tallied for Rapids but Neenah hit six more points in a row.

Then came Rapids' third and last basket of the quarter and was followed by a string of eight tallies by the Rockets, orbiting them to a 55-28 lead going into the last frame.

They continued the productive-

Don Meredith Participates In Workout

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Don Meredith, starting quarterback for the Dallas Cowboys, suited up and worked out Wednesday, a team spokesman said.

Meredith was rushed to a hospital Tuesday morning after an attack of severe stomach cramps. He was released later in the day.

The Cowboys meet Green Bay Jan. 1 at the Cotton Bowl in Dallas for the National Football League championship. Meredith says he is ready to play.

Pacelli Quint Tips Zephyrs in Final Minute, 52 to 51

Koehl Sinks Free Throw to Win Non-Conference Game

STEVENS POINT — Menasha trolled the ball until 13 seconds St. Mary controlled the basket, remained when it called a time ball for all but a few seconds of out to plan a last-second goal the final minute but failed to attempt.

They set up Mike Gage for a 12-footer, which he missed. Teammate Greg Gill claimed the rebound but failed on a short shot from under the basket, the Cardinals' Andy Muettterties rebounding.

Muettterties was fouled with one second left but missed his free throw.

Zephyrs Take Lead
Coach Bob Karisny's cagers had trailed most of the game, but fought back in the fourth period and held 44-41 and 48-43 leads, the latter with 3:30 left.

Pacelli put together a string of six straight points to go ahead, 51-48, with 2:35 left. Muettterties put the hosts ahead with his tip-in and Koehl accounted for the 3-point lead with a drive-in.

Tom Wroblewski put the Twin Citizens within a point with his drive-in, and with 1:18 left, Gage was fouled. He tied the score with his first free throw but didn't connect on the bonus.

Reverses Defeat
Pacelli, which lost to the Zephyrs, 82-66, on the latter's home court a month ago, led, 16-11, at the quarter, 31-26 at halftime and 41-38 at the end of three segments. It led by eight points at one juncture in the third segment.

Mike Baumhoefer paced the winners with 16 points while Koehl added 11.

Gage scored 19, Wroblewski 18 and Mike Heroux 11 to account for all but three of the Zephyr points.

The Zephyrs made 11 of 23 free throws; Pacelli hooped 10 of 14.

The Cardinals hit 30 per cent of their field goal attempts on the night. St. Mary made 36.4 per cent on 20 of 55. The latter took only 23 second-half shots but put in 10.

Dallas Finishes As Leading NFL Offensive Team

Packers Yield 163 Points, Are Tops In Pass Defense

NEW YORK (AP) — When Coach Tom Landry of the Dallas Cowboys was asked to single out the two new players who had helped his team most this year, he mentioned Dan Reeves and Tony Liscio.

Reeves' ability as a running back enabled Landry to return Mel Renfro to the defensive safety job where he was needed. Liscio, who missed a year and a half due to injuries, came back at a new position and helped fire the Cowboys' ground game as a guard.

As a result of the help of these men, plus the others in the Dallas regular lineup, the Cowboys led the National Football League in team offense with an average gain of 367 yards a game.

Second On Defense
The Cowboys also were right up there in defense, finishing second, just behind St. Louis, after a dull game against New York in their finale. Dallas also led in rushing defense.

Green Bay, the team the Cowboys must face in the Cotton Bowl, Jan. 1 for the NFL title, was first in pass defense. Cleveland was first in rushing offense.

The NFL title game will match Dallas, the team with the most points, 445, against the Packers, who allowed the fewest, 163. Dallas led the league in first downs, 287; touchdowns, 56; extra points, 56; fewest first downs allowed rushing, 64, and

Vandy Blasts Northwestern

Campbell Hits 38 In 116-92 Win; MSU, Louisville Triumph

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Kenny Campbell probably will remember the night of Dec. 21, 1966 all his life.

Starting for the first time in his college career, Campbell threw in 38 points to lead the 10th-ranked Vanderbilt Commodores to a 116-92 basketball victory over Northwestern.

A 6-footer from Oak Ridge, Tenn., the 21-year-old Campbell hit on 17 of 26 field goal attempts to tie a Vandy record in the game at Nashville.

Campbell's feat made him the Wednesday college basketball player of the night. His performance overshadowed the return to action tonight of the UCLA Bruins, top-ranked in The Associated Press poll, and Lew Alcindor, their prize 7-foot-1 3/4 sophomore.

Colorado State Next

UCLA and Alcindor play host to the Colorado State University Rams in the Bruins' first game since routing Duke nearly two weeks ago.

Louisville, No. 2 in the AP poll, No. 5 Michigan State and No. 6 New Mexico also chalked up victories on a night replete with intersectional contests.

Playing at home, Louisville defeated St. Louis 75-68. On the road, Michigan State bounced back from its Tuesday setback by New Orleans Loyola, to whip Tulane 78-66 and the New Mexico Lobos beat Creighton at Omaha 78-68.

Illini Romp

Illinois smothered Stanford 81-67, Toledo routed Duquesne 89-58, Oklahoma City downed Baylor 103-89, Purdue took Army in overtime 79-69, Iowa humbled California 72-62, Drake upset Colorado 77-72 and Tulsa overcame Utah State 67-52. All were home court triumphs.

Iowa State exploded for 69 points in the second half to whip Texas 101-87 for the championship of the Sun Devil Classic at Tempe, Ariz., Boston College beat Massachusetts 75-67 in the final of the Boston Garden Invitational and Akron won the Rubber City Classic in its home town by downing Bucknell 87-60.

Hayek Named Week's Top WSUC Player

MADISON (AP) — Oshkosh sophomore Ron Hayek, who scored 23 points in the Titans' basketball triumph over Stevens Point last week, was named player of the week in the Wisconsin State University Conference today.

Hayek, a 6-foot-4 sharpshooter from Milwaukee Plus, scored 15 points in the second half of the 79-73 victory that kept the Titans in a tie for first place.

Appleton 'Y' Swim Team Wins Crown in Green Bay

The Appleton YMCA swim team won the title of the recent Green Bay AAU invitational meet for 10-and-under competitors. Fifteen boys' and girls' teams competed.

Steeler Tackle Will Trade Spikes For Law Practice

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Charlie Bradshaw of the Pittsburgh Steelers has turned in his resignation to the National Football League club, the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette said Sunday.

The paper said Bradshaw, a nine-year veteran and president of the NFL's Players Association, said he was quitting pro football to devote more time to his Houston law practice.

Bradshaw, 30, an offensive tackle and a graduate of Baylor University, played with Los Angeles before coming to Pittsburgh six years ago.

Shawano Pulls Away in Second Half, Tips Raiders

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Two Rivers — Shawano pulled away from mistake-ridden Two Rivers in the second half to post a 69-49 victory in the lone Mid Eastern Conference game Wednesday night.

After six jets and 13 lead changes in the first 13 minutes of play, the Indians went out to a 37-29 lead at the half. A rash of turnovers limited the Raiders to only 20 shots in the second half, and just 51 for the game.

Bill Gipp fired in 15 points to lead the winners, and Tom Turman paced Two Rivers with the same total.

Dick Tiger Named Year's Top Fighter

Nat Fleischer Also Honored by Boxing Writers

NEW YORK (AP) — Two nice old men of boxing, 37-year-old Dick Tiger of Nigeria and Nat Fleischer, a 79-year-old globe-trotting editor and official, were named today to receive the two major awards of the Boxing Writers Association.

Tiger, the newly crowned light heavyweight champion and one of the oldest fighters ever to win a world crown, was chosen Fighter of the Year for his upset, rallying victory over 30-year-old Jose Torres last Friday night. He will receive the Edward J. Neil plaque for the second time. Tiger won it first in 1962.

Fleischer, editor and publisher of Ring Magazine and an official at more than 1,000 fights in all parts of the world, was picked for the James J. Walker Award for "long and meritorious service to boxing."

Tiger, the first former mid-dleweight champion to win the light heavyweight title in 63 years, beat out three other champions — middleweight Emile Griffith, heavyweight Cassius Clay and lightweight Carlos Ortiz — for the annual award.

That was almost a big an upset as Tiger's victory as a 3-1 underdog against the 30-year-old Jose Torres at Madison Square Garden last Friday night.

Black Hawks, Rangers Stay Tied for Lead

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The long-standing feud between the Montreal Canadiens and Toronto Maple Leafs is a perfect arrangement for Yvan Cournoyer.

The Canadiens and Leafs, who set a barrage of Stanley Cup brawling records during the National Hockey League playoffs last spring, went at it again Wednesday night, much to Cournoyer's delight.

The slight right winger, who gets on the ice only on power plays, converted three times while Toronto was short-handed and led the Canadiens to a 6-2 victory over the Leafs.

In other games, New York and Chicago both won and remained tied for the NHL lead. The Rangers got two goals from Bernie (Boom Boom) Geoffron and walloped Boston 5-1 while the Black Hawks got a pair from Bobby Hull and handed Detroit its 14th straight road loss, 6-4.

Agee First to Sign for 1967 With White Sox

CHICAGO (AP) — Outfielder Tommie Agee of the Chicago White Sox, 1966 American League Rookie of the Year, Wednesday became the club's first player signed for next year. Terms were not disclosed.

Agee, 24, led the White Sox in nine offensive departments, among them hitting with .273; RBI's with 86; home runs with 22 and base hits with 172. He placed third in the league in stolen bases with 44.

Agee was acquired from the Cleveland Indians two years ago, but lost a 1965 chance with the Sox because of a fractured right hand.

BY ROWLAND EVANS AND ROBERT NOVAK
WASHINGTON — Not even the angry slap at President Johnson by the Democratic governors last week seems destined to force the political reforms of the President's party so badly needed both within the White House and at the Democratic National Committee.

The fact is that Mr. Johnson has not even consented to see George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO, despite Meany's efforts ever since the Nov. 8 election to arrange a White House visit.

Meany's impatience to talk

political facts of life with the President is symbolic of a rising sense of frustration and, more important, of genuine fear that the President has not taken to heart the lessons of the 1966 election. The Democratic governors, George Meany and the entire political hierarchy of the President's party now fear that if this is the case, the 1968 election could bring disaster.

In Bad Shape

"The Democratic Party hasn't been in such bad shape for 30 years," confides an old pro with intimate connections to the President and no sympathy whatsoever for the anti-Johnson recriminations now coming so boldly from the politicians.

Why, then, is it unlikely that the President will take the necessary steps to rejuvenate his party? Part of the answer undoubtedly lies in Mr. Johnson's parochial political heritage. As a Texas Democrat and leader of his party in the U.S. Senate, Mr. Johnson spent eight years fighting off political attack from the Democratic National Committee. Mr. Johnson's perennial warfare against the late Paul M. Butler, then Democratic national chairman, led to one of Washington's celebrated feuds in the 1950s.

No White House Challenge

With some justification, this intra-party battle left Mr. Johnson with a low opinion of the national committee. And today, the softest spot in the party's armor is right there in the national committee, still headed by the amiable John M. Bailey.

Mr. Johnson seems to be afraid that if he replaces Bailey with a tough-nosed political manager, the national committee might be built into a power center capable of challenging the White House.

This is, of course, preposterous. But to non-Northern Democrats, the national committee

Your Money's Worth

Airline Fares Offer Numerous Bargains

BY SYLVIA PORTER

If you fly from New York City to San Juan, Puerto Rico, and back, you can save as much as $31.50 simply by going on a night instead of a day coach.

Sylvia Porter

This would be on top of any savings you would get by choosing a "thrill" instead of a first class flight.

Or if you travel on the "family plan" from, let's say, Chicago to Miami and back your total savings on tickets for you, your wife and two children between the ages of 12 and 21 can amount to $248.00.

Or if you use a New York has always represented a center of big-city power politics. And with the Johnson and Kennedy wings of the party more suspicious than ever of each other, Mr. Johnson apparently wants to keep the committee powerless and comparatively inactive.

Some highly-placed Democrats actually think this may be a controlling factor in the President's unwillingness to name Postmaster General Lawrence F. O'Brien as national chairman. O'Brien is the only New Frontiersman who has been elevated from a White House job to the Johnson cabinet, and he is the overwhelming favorite to rejuvenate the party as national committee chairman. But repeated suggestions to the President are waved aside with the comment that O'Brien already has his hands full.

In the White House itself, the President's man Bill Moyers has more and more become the bridge between the Northern organization Democrats and Mr. Johnson. With Moyers now leaving, Joseph Califano is getting the telephone calls from the politicians.

Watson in Embarrassing Chore

This true despite the fact that White House appointment Secretary W. Marvin Watson, Jr., the conservative Texas politician and former steel man, is the President's designated agent to the politicians. Watson doesn't talk the language of the big-city, big-state Democratic politicians. And they don't appreciate his tight-budget, cost accounting methods of running their party. And yet, instead of removing Watson from his embarrassing political chores, the President seems to delight in waving him before the politicians like a red flag before a bull. Thus, it was Watson — not O'Brien or some other kindred spirit — whom Mr. Johnson designated as his personal representative to the funeral of Pennsylvania's David Lawrence, the archetype of the old pro. Through no fault of his own, Watson's presence was out of character with the occasion, like a certified public accountant in a smoke-filled room.

With the President planning no foreseeable replacement for Bailey at the national committee or for Watson's political role in the White House, the consternation of the Democratic governors, of George Meany and of lesser party figures is certain to grow. They know that with Republicans about to take over every Northern big-state capital except Illinois, it is already later than the President thinks. (Copyright, 1966) airport to go to London and back, you can save $85.50 just by scheduling your trip in May instead of July — and you can save another $99 if you take advantage of the 14 to 21-day excursion fare.

These examples, drawn up for me by Eastern Airlines, are only a few of the air fare bargains available today. Such "promotional" fares — offered in one form or another by every major airline — are vastly expanding the market for air travel.

Attracted by Bargains

By these bargain fares airlines are helping to fill empty seats on off-peak hours, days and seasons. Only a few years ago an estimated 80 per cent of Americans had never flown in an airplane. Today, about one-half of American adults have taken at least one trip by air. Just in the past year the proportion of unfilled seats on domestic airlines has dropped from 45 per cent to 41 per cent. One key reason: an estimated 40-45 per cent of air travelers now go on some form of discounted ticket.

The variety of possible savings has now multiplied to the point where you probably don't realize that bargains actually are being offered. Here, therefore, is a brief guide to specially-priced air fares you can get today on most major U.S. airlines:

—The youth fare: At half the regular economy price, this is available for use throughout the U.S. to young people aged 12 through 21 — if they buy a $3 identification card in advance. Space is available on a standby basis and there are certain restrictions on travel during peak holiday seasons.

—Family plan fares: A bargain when children aged 12 through 21 are traveling with one or both parents and if the family flies during weekdays. The husband pays a full day-coach fare; the wife's faire is one-third less and the children's fare is two-thirds less. Children under 2 travel free.

Off Season Fares

—Off-season excursion fares: Savings run from 25-50 per cent for weekday travel outside peak travel seasons in the U.S. and abroad. Typically, the low-fare off-season for Europe runs from Aug. 3 to May 22.

—Off-hour fares: Savings run from 10-25 per cent, mainly for night coach flights. These generally are in effect between 9-10 p.m. and 4 a.m.

In addition to these widely-used air fare bargains, individual U.S. airlines have recently introduced a whole range of other promotional fares for particular groups: the "Senior Citizens" fare for women over age 62 and men over age 65; the "first-time riders" fare; the half-price "ladies fare"; a low-priced "weekend fare."

To find the best bargain for whatever trip you are planning, enlist the help of a travel agent — or simply call the appropriate airline and ask the reservation department which is the least expensive way to get to your destination.

The key point is that wherever and whenever you plan to fly, there is almost surely some kind of air fare bargain available to you and your family — at savings which can mount to hundreds of dollars.

The Senseless Slaughter Continues

A record number of persons have been killed on Wisconsin roads, and the death count continues to soar.

An indication of how senseless many of the fatalities can be was witnessed once and almost twice early Sunday morning in northern Outagamie County.

A Post-Crescent reporter was with authorities about 1:30 a.m. near Oneida after a 52-year-old man was crushed and mangled when he was struck by a car on a dark county road. The man apparently was walking in the middle of the road, wearing a dark-colored coat and dark trousers. He carried no flashlight.

His needless death was the one that pushed the state highway toll to an official record high of 1,060.

The reporter later was riding with the deputy county coroner who was driving behind the ambulance carrying the traffic victim's body to a DePere funeral home. Suddenly the brake lights flashed and the ambulance veered to the right shoulder of the road. The deputy coroner was forced to slam on his brakes.

An elderly man wearing dark clothing and carrying no flashlight was walking in the middle of the road. A less-alert driver might well have added another victim to the fatality toll.

How senseless this slaughter that seems to know no end.

Changes in NATO

There have been charges by various columnists and former members of government agencies that one of the State Department's blind spots has been Europe and the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. But with or without American leadership, NATO is changing its role as well as its headquarters.

A communique issued after a two day meeting of the Council of Ministers of NATO, unanimously agreed upon, spoke strongly about the need to "develop human, economic and cultural contacts between the two parts of Germany." A four power declaration, representing the views of the United States, Great Britain, France and West Germany, said that "the solution of the German question is one of the essential problems in the relations between East and West. This solution can only be achieved by peaceful methods, on the basis of the right of self-determination and through the creation of an atmosphere of detente on the continent under conditions guaranteeing the security of all countries." The communique also asked the removal of "barriers to freer and more friendly reciprocal exchanges between countries of different social and economic systems." This is obviously a reference to the Communist countries in Eastern Europe and the Soviet Union.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk quite correctly pointed out that the improved relations between Eastern and Western Europe have come about in part because of the existence of NATO although his emphasis may have been too strong. His points about the past deterrent value of NATO were brought into the communique as well as a reference to the "solidarity" of West Europe despite France's withdrawal. But France offered no objection to the term although De Gaulle has often expressed the view that improved relations must now come through individual nation's actions rather than through NATO. The communique even permitted this idea in that "there are clearly different approaches which can be adopted, whether between individual countries or in a wider international framework."

John Galbraith, former Ambassador to India, writes that "official doctrine holds that NATO has not been damaged by the lessening fear of military attack which was once so important as a cohesive force . . . This is awful nonsense; it reflects the oldest and least justified of diplomatic beliefs which is that official myth, if sufficiently reiterated, will do as a substitute for fact." He further says that younger people in American foreign affairs are recognizing the changes in NATO which he apparently feels that Secretary Rusk has not seen and that "in American diplomatic practice, it is the beginning of understanding to know that a change of policy always precedes an avowal of change. Often it is accompanied by a disavowal of change." So all our official criticisms of France and President de Gaulle are going to be forgotten as NATO virtually adopts the efforts to soothe relations between East and West which De Gaulle has pushed.

President Johnson has also called for better relations and more of them between Eastern Europe and the Soviet and Western Europe and the United States. But it is rather obvious that most of our moves in this direction have followed Europe's lead rather than being originated in Washington. A great deal of our post-war European policies have been understandably but regrettably based upon Europe's failures to prevent two World Wars. There may once again be danger of such a catastrophe but the chances are dimming. A major reason is the economic health of most of West Europe and the ambitions for such prosperity among the people in the Communist countries.

NATO must change if it is to survive at all and present any kind of real leadership toward peace in Europe as it did in the past. It may even be that some day most of its massive military power, much of it American, will be dismantled if the Soviet Union does the same thing with its troop strength still holding out in Eastern Europe.

There is another very big change in NATO which the Department of State must recognize. As France withdraws voluntarily from a position of leadership and the United States in part from lack of initiative, the new leader appears to be West Germany. It's foreign minister, Willy Brandt, who has lived with communism surrounding his city of Berlin, has made it quite clear so far that he favors a continued growth in friendly relations with the East. We have helped to build up West Germany to its present state of economic prosperity and, probably less intentionally, to political independence. Now we must see how it will perform as a major leader in a changed NATO.

Press Freedom in Argentina

Newspapers in Argentina have been running worried editorials over the dangers of censorship. The time may be running out for such editorials if a press law under draft by the new Argentine government is accepted.

President Juan Carlos Ongania first referred to the proposed law last August when he said his government was considering a statute "to guarantee freedom of the press." But the draft now under consideration is far more concerned with controls than freedom. The word censorship is never used but that is what it amounts to.

There would be prohibitions against publishing or broadcasting anything that might "ridicule" public officials or foreign diplomats. It isn't clear exactly who would determine that such ridicule existed. Anything false, obscene or in violation of "good taste or custom" would also be banned. There would be measures to "prevent the use of those means of mass communication . . . with the purpose of injury, calumny or offense to the chiefs of state or foreign diplomats." And since the government is in favor of all good things, it would "ban those publications that negatively affect the right of citizens to enjoy the guarantee of proper defense with justice and due process."

It is always interesting to watch how proposed censorship laws are defended as upholding equal rights and protecting people from unjust criticism. That such criticism often exists in nations where there are no such laws — in the United States most notably — cannot be denied. But when government officials can determine when they are unjustly criticized or humiliated, they are quite likely to decide that all criticism is unjust.

Such laws are not unusual. Most of the newly independent nations have them. Real freedom is a dangerous business.

New Diocese in Wisconsin

Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for Dec. 22, 1866.

At a recent Catholic Council at Baltimore, it was decided to create a new Wisconsin Bishopric with the title of Green Bay.

It is now improbable that Appleton will be chosen as the residence of the new Bishop. It is the most picturesque spot in the entire Fox River Valley for the location of a Cathedral.

Waverly Lodge, Free and Accepted Masons, occupied their new and beautiful hall in Crawford's Block on Thursday evening, and installed officers for the ensuing term.

The Lodge is beautifully decorated. It is claimed to be the handsomest Lodge Room

The ceremony of installation was concluded with a new sumptuous collation.

Kraft Writes

Bombing of North Vietnam Proves Absurdly Costly; For What Gain?

BY JOSEPH KRAFT

WASHINGTON — Temporary excitement over wiretapping, the Manchester book, and Bill Moyers' departure from the White House has obscured an intense debate on a far more important issue — the pace and pattern of the bombing of North Vietnam.

Kraft

The debate engages all the leading members of the national security community including the President, the secretaries of defense and state, the Joint Chiefs of Staff, and the Central Intelligence Agency. At stake is the matter of a holiday pause in the bombing and its possible duration.

The arguments are far too complicated to be reduced to such simple categories as hawks and doves. But it is useful, for analytic purposes, to identify two sides.

One side, led by Secretary of Defense McNamara, is skeptical, to put it mildly, about the value of the bombing. In their view, bombing the North has not achieved any progress in its political objective — which is to weaken the resolve of the Hanoi government to keep up the war. That assessment is apparently borne out by recent CIA evaluations.

"Iceland Our Thawing Partner," won first place in the speech contest at Kaukauna High School. Patricia McGrath took second place and Diane O'Dell third.

Michael Finnegan was to present the scriptural reading and Miss Pamela Greuhm was to be the organist at the Christmas Eve service at First Congregational Church, Appleton. The young people of the church were in charge of the service.

Mrs. James Retson and Mrs. David Weiland were in charge of the first Christmas celebration held that year by neighbors in the Gillette Highlands area. Fifty-five families, including 100 children, took part in the party which included community caroling, a procession and a visit from Santa Claus.

With respect to the interdiction of supplies and troops flowing from North to South, the skeptics acknowledge that bombing has undoubtedly had some impact. But they do not think that it is decisive, and they think that it is absurdly heavy in cost. In line with this emphasis on the costliness of bombing the North, the civilian authorities at the Pentagon have recently put out the figure that this country is spending a about $322,000 for every enemy soldier killed in Vietnam.

PROPOSERS ARGUE EFFECTIVENESS

On the other side, there are the advocates of the bombing. Led by the Joint Chiefs of Staff, the secretary of state and the President's special assistant for national security affairs, Walt W. Rostow. With respect to the military objectives of the bombing, the advocates think that the results have been good. They argue that insurgents would have had a far more effective and successful effort in the South, if bombing in the North had not disrupted supply lines, and destroyed oil and ammunition reserves.

With respect to the political side of the bombing, the advocates acknowledge that it has not had a decisive impact in making the Hanoi government desist from its support of the war in the South. But they ascribe the failure here to the moderation of the bombing effort. They argue that Hanoi would begin to desist if put under intensified pressure.

In judging these two arguments, the temptation is very strong to apply the pragmatic test—to ask what good can a pause achieve. And the answer given by experience and any reading of what is being said in North Vietnam is that a pause is unlikely to bring any moderation of the Hanoi position. That is why Secretary McNamara is now virtually alone in the higher circles of the administration.

NEW GOVERNMENT COULD NEGOTIATE

But it seems to me that the pragmatic test is not a good one. It seems to me that the argument for a pause carries weight even though the prospects of winning Hanoi over to negotiations are dim.

For one thing, all the advocates have to offer is a steady deepening of the American commitment in the North. That means, not far off, such serious steps as the bombing of the civilian population; or a blockade; or an invasion.

For another, in the work around the Constituent Assembly in Saigon there is slowly developing a political process leading toward what could be legitimate, civilian government. Once in place such a government would be a possible counterpart to the Viet Cong, or national liberation front, in negotiations. It would add a new factor to the equation — a possible new road to a peaceful settlement.

Thus, while further escalation is full of known dangers, postponement or stretch-out of escalation leaves scope of unknown hopes. In these conditions, it seems to me that any pause, any break in escalation, any slowing down of the inexorable process, is per se a good thing.

Compassion Fine but It's Also Gullible

Editor, Post-Crescent:

Without a doubt the finest human trait is compassion, but too often compassionate people are inclined to be gullible.

Quite naturally, newspapers thrive on sensationalism, but it would be well if readers took into consideration that sometimes things are not necessarily as they seem. Unless all the true facts are known, it is unfair to brand law enforcement officers and judges as "brutal" or "unfeeling" or "heartless."

This letter was prompted by my young son who finds it upsetting that the newspapers seem to eager to put the police and the courts in a bad light. Justice isn't dead, it is just finding it hard to function properly with its hands tied. The "power of the press" could, if it would, do much to support law enforcement, instead of tearing it down for a sob story.

Raising Cigarette Tax Provides Easy Money; It's Virtuous, Too

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON — A useful illustration of the changing fashions in Wisconsin politics is the vulnerability of the tobacco industry to taxation increases that a short generation ago would have been inconceivable.

Wyngaard

The Wisconsin Food and Tobacco Institute, which in the lexicon of the times is a "lobbying interest," is busily distributing bulletins claiming that the higher cigarette tax that looms as a prospect in the new legislature will be self-defeating because it will push the price of the product so far out of line with other states that bootlegging will inevitably result and the state treasury's receipts will decline.

The argument is plausible enough. The cigarette tax level is now higher in Wisconsin than anywhere in the Middle West and is in fact one of the highest in the country. More to the point is that it is perhaps the most effective argument that the industry can make. Its real concern, it is apparent, is the possibility that its product may be priced out of the market as a result of the endless addition of taxes. It is keenly aware, however, that some of the public has very little sympathy for the industry or its customers. There is a combination of prejudice and fear involved. Cigarettes, to many minds, are not only hazardous to human health, but sinful as well.

EASY NOW

Thus politicians and spending interest groups can talk about levying more cigarette taxes with comparative impunity.

The discussions of the members of the so-called task force reviewing the outdoor recreational program of the state demonstrate. How the legislature or the governor should raise the money they propose to spend in larger amounts is none of their affair, however broadly their mandate is construed. These men and women were asked to review the progress of the land buying program that started in 1960, how it might be improved, whether it should be continued and enlarged, and what additional purpose might be served. How money needs should be accommodated is the business of the legislature and the governor.

Had this group of citizens talked about any other form of taxation as they have talked about the cigarette tax in connection with their recreation program enlargement recommendations, there would now be shouts of resistance echoing through the state community.

But only the voice of Anthony J. Madler, the tobacco industry's political agent at Madison, has been heard thus far. He is obliged to make his objections in the guise of concern for the treasury's bootlegging problem.

THEN AND NOW

Consider the contrast with the legislative session of 1939, when the first Wisconsin cigarette tax was seriously proposed. The first levy was achieved with the greatest difficulty, featuring all night-legislative filibusters, anxious cries of indignation from the liberals about the unfairness of a "sales" tax, and avid public discussion everywhere.

The first timid levy was at two cents a pack, and was justified on the basis of critical general services budget requirements. But the ice was broken. Six times since that year the tax has been raised, three times in the last five years. The last boost of two cents came only a year ago.

It was noticed only momentarily, as far as public reactions furnished a test. There are men remaining in the legislature who remember the intensity of the quarrel about the 1939 act. They doubtless wonder what it was all about as they contemplate the total of 10 cents a pack collected by the state treasury today.

Mr. Madler has been doing a good turn by the conservationists, in a sense, by their advance notice of their intentions. He has plenty of time to prepare his fight. He is a resourceful fellow, and one of the most experienced legislative persuaders in the business. Yet he knows that he probably cannot win. It is not often that the legislature has a chance to raise money while feeling virtuous about it.

Strictly Personal

Thoughts at Large Occupy Harris Today

BY SYDNEY J. HARRIS

A person of cold rectitude is usually unaware that character is no substitute for charm; and a person of engaging personality is often just as unaware that charm is no substitute for character; for we cannot make one trait do the work of others without impairing the machinery of the self.

Harris

What a thing costs is not the price one pays for it, but the price one must go on paying for it, either in monetary or psychic terms; and, thus regarded, many disiderata come far too high.

Perhaps the neatest aphorism summing up the human condition was made by Walpole when he said: "Imagination was given to man to compensate him for what he is not, and a sense of humor was provided to console him for what he is."

It's a sad commentary on our reading habits that an 'intriguing but unreliable book like "The Territorial Imperative" should become such a best-seller, while Konrad Lorenz' infinitely wiser text on much the same subject, "On Agression," has not received such wide currency, even though published at the same time, and well reviewed.

A woman nags her husband not because she wants to dominate him, but because he has been unsuccessful in dominating her; nagging is almost always an expression of the woman's unsatisfied need to be dependent.

Speaking of women, the only useful advice I've ever heard on getting along well with them is Gelett Burgess': "Be intellectual with pretty women; be frivolous with intellectual women; be serious and empress with young girls; be saucy and impudent with old ladies."

The nations of the world sometimes remind me of patients in a mental institution, each insisting that he alone doesn't belong there, and each agreeing that all the others are quite mad.

The supreme art of giving presents is not to give someone what he wanted (which he could get for himself), but to give someone what he didn't know he wanted until he got it, which adds delight to gratitude.

People don't give up their pretensions because they would feel naked without them; but how much better to face the world naked than cumberously clothed in a "counterfeit" costume.

Syphilis, Gonorrhea Explained by Doctor

BY JOSEPH MOLNER, M. D.
Dear Dr. Molner: Please tell us what syphilis and gonorrhea are. My friends and I have been wondering for quite awhile. — P.K., J.D., R.W.

You don't tell me how old you are, but you are old enough to ask, and to spell the words right, and you deserve an answer.

These are venereal diseases, infectious diseases which are primarily spread by sexual intimacy. The germs can be transmitted in other ways, but this happens rarely. In all cases, the germs have to come from someone who has one of these diseases. The rapid spread, therefore, is caused by promiscuous people who have sexual relations with numerous others.

Neither disease is likely to be very severe at first. (Boys and men usually know in a few days if they have acquired gonorrhea; girls and women sometimes do but sometimes do not know.)

Dr. Molner

It is the aftermath which is frightening. Gonorrhea affects the organs of the lower part of the body primarily, can cause disease of the prostate and urinary tract, can make patients of either sex sterile. It can cause arthritis, eye inflammation and other such troubles, and can make babies blind if mothers have the disease.

Syphilis is even worse. Considerably worse. It can affect almost any part of the body — central nervous system, liver, heart and blood vessels. It can leave people blind or insane. Yet virtually all of this misery could be prevented. In the 1950's, when it was realized that penicillin (or sometimes other drugs) could cure these diseases quickly and effectively, the number of cases declined to a low figure. Some optimists predicted that these diseases were about to be stamped out entirely.

Then people began getting careless. Vigorous campaigns, publicity, and education slacked off. Moral attitudes apparently have changed. More young people are getting (and spreading) V.D.

An estimated 3,000 people a day are getting one or the other of these diseases in the United States, and 600 are teenagers. Syphilis is estimated to be causing 1,000 deaths a month. It usually takes years, but it is, truly, deadly.

More than half of all infection is among teenagers and adults under the age of 25.

It costs $50,000,000 a year to care for patients who are in mental hospitals because of syphilis, and $6,000,000 to care for those who are blind from the same cause.

An estimated 1,200,000 have syphilis and have not been treated.

There are films, posters and pamphlets available for educational campaigns in schools or elsewhere.

Experts say that from two to six hours of instruction is sufficient to teach groups all they need to know to protect themselves and others against these diseases.

But too many people don't know, and the depressing fact is that the spread of V. D. is increasing.

Dear Dr. Molner: Is it possible for a person who is allergic to penicillin to get a reaction from eating anything with mold on it, such as bread? I got a rash and swelling. — J. F.

It is possible in a person who is highly sensitive to penicillin which, as you obviously know, is a mold.

Acne is one of the most terrible problems of growing up. If you are afflicted with this aggravation, or if you have children who are, write to Dr. Molner in care of this newspaper for a copy of his helpful and comforting booklet, "Acne — The Teen-Age Problem."

Please enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope, and 20 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling. (Copyright, 1966)

GRANDMOTHERS ARE USUALLY DULL CONVERSATIONALISTS! TRUE ☐ FALSE ☐

False. Al Capp's observation is that grandmothers are more fascinating than they were 20 years ago when they were completely absorbed raising their children. "That was all she knew as a young homemaker. It was all she could talk about. So she was likely to be dull going if you found yourself seated next to her on a plane or at a dinner party." No, as a grandmother, she has time to travel, to read, and see the latest films and plays, and is more of a lively conversationalist than she's ever been before.

Do some people attract trouble? Yes — No —

Yes. Always being in trouble is usually due, not to "bad luck" but to people's insistence upon doing what will get them in trouble. There are various explanations for this. Some subconsciously want to be punished. Some children get into trouble as a way of striking back at parents. Some have a high energy output and find life too boring. The Manawa man suffered facial cuts while the Freedom

The U.S. Military Command reported scattered small-scale ground fighting in South Vietnam but no major engagements.

81 Missions

American pilots flew 81 bombing missions over North Vietnam Wednesday, and U.S. headquarters said generally poor weather limited most of the strikes to the southern part of the country.

The headquarters said one Navy A4 Skyhawk jet was shot down by ground fire and the pilot is missing. It was the 451st U.S. plane reported downed over North Vietnam in the war.

Today was the eighth day of B52 raids inside or around the Demilitarized Zone. The repeated raids are designed to smash a buildup of North Vietnamese troops who U.S. authorities believe will be sent south.

further injury, said he would never drive a school bus again.

Provincial police identified the truck driver as Marcel Le-francois of Stoney, Ont., who was being detained pending results of an investigation. He was not hurt.

Severe Burns

One of the rescuers, Ralph Bondy, 27, of McGregor, Ont., severely burned his left hand as he used a torch to cut through the steel leg of a bus seat under which a boy was trapped.

"I held my hand over the boy's face to protect him from the flame and sparks, and as the torch burst through the steel it seared my hand," Bondy said. "Kids were screaming, saying, 'save me!' and, 'I'm going to die!' They were in hysterics. A lot of other people were coming up, too, and we started tearing the bus apart, to pull the kids out," he said.

"We tore the insides of that bus apart, mostly with our bare hands."

Combat Operations Undetermined

N. Vietnamese Getting Some Aid From N. Koreans on War in Air

WASHINGTON (AP) — North Korea has joined in the Communist world's support of North Vietnam by supplying a contingent of pilots who apparently are tutoring Hanoi's flyers in aerial operations.

U.S. Intelligence confirmed the presence of 25 to 50 North Koreans in North Vietnam in recent days, it was learned.

Sources said today the North Koreans arrived six to eight weeks ago, but are not known to have participated in any engagements with American planes.

Role Undermined

One source categorized the Koreans as counterparts to U.S. military teams assigned to some foreign countries to provide technical training and assistance. Another, however, suggested they might be in North Vietnam for some training of their own in a combat zone.

The exact role of the North Koreans was not spelled out of-

Hoffa Receives Appeal Extension

WASHINGTON (AP)—Temple's Union president James R. Hoffa has been granted an additional 30 days—until Feb. 4—to ask the Supreme Court to reconsider its decision upholding his 1964 jury tampering conviction.

Justice Potter Stewart granted the delay Wednesday at the request of Hoffa's attorney. The action apparently means Hoffa will still be free on appeal bond when negotiations of a new union contract begin, probably in mid-January.

Hoffa received an eight-year prison sentence in the 1964 trial.

officially but, government spokesmen said, they have been flying out of Hanoi's main bases.

It is too early to attach significance to the North Korean entry into the war picture, sources said.

North Vietnam has a small air force of Soviet-made planes. The Pentagon credits Hanoi with 15 to 20 MIG21s, 40 to 50 older MIG15s and MIG17s and six old Russian IL28 bombers. There have been unconfirmed reports that the Soviets have provided 100 more planes in recent weeks.

The North Vietnamese planes, however, have not been a major obstacle to U. S. plans striking at military targets in the north. For this reason, and because the administration seeks to avoid escalating the war, the United States has refrained from bombing Hanoi's air bases, officials said.

Knowles Challenges UW Budget Requests

university's ideal, a 16-1 proportion.

But under Fleming's request, approved by the UW board of regents, the actual division and distribution of the money would be left to the UW administration.

"This all seems pretty vague to me," the governor said, after reading a two-page justification statement presented by Fleming.

"I'll tell you that from my standpoint the programs will have to be spelled out a lot more before I'd be willing to give you a blank check," challenged Knowles, when Fleming and regent president Arthur DeBardeleben were unable to supply him with priorities for the contemplated projects.

"My first impression in an indefinite way is that this is a slush fund to be used in any way wanted," said state Sen. Walter Hollander, co-chairman of the legislative Joint Committee on Finance, which will have first crack at Knowles' final budget requests.

Letter of Intent

Knowles also exploded in mid-afternoon after being informed that the UW had signed a letter of intent to purchase a $15-million computer for which they had requested initial state appropriations only hours before.

"We've either been going through an exercise in futility or..." he was interrupted by UW officials rushing to explain the timing mixup of the announcement.

Graduate school Dean Robert Alberty told Knowles the letter was not binding and was only a procedural method used to save up to two years in the receipt of one of the highly complex machines.

Asked by Knowles what would happen if no state money is forthcoming, Alberty said, "We're just optimists, I guess."

Filed Requests

Alberty said the UW has grant requests filed with three federal agencies which could cover the entire cost of the computer. But the expenditure of some state funds must be expected unless the UW is extremely lucky and receives full grants from all three agencies.

Also requested was a salary increase package which totals more than 17 per cent and $19 million during the next biennium. It was introduced by UW officials giving lavish praise to Knowles and the legislature for backing a special emergency salary allocation last spring which the UW had said was necessary to keep faculty members from deserting for fatter paychecks elsewhere.

US officials said the results of the pay boost were highly beneficial in that the faculty members now have renewed faith in Wisconsin's commitment to quality higher education.

Measure of Faith

They then asked for pay increases totaling 8.5 per cent in each year of the biennium as a measure of that faith. DeBardeleben however, expressed disappointment in the size of the request, noting that it had already been cut by the Coordinating Committee for Higher Education. The regents originally asked for faculty raises of 10.2 per cent and 7.8 per cent during the two years.

Knowles riveted his questioning on the amount of extra, non-state pay which faculty members earn in special consulting roles and from outside writings.

University officials maintain that while money is earned, it is less than is gained by faculty members of many schools closer to major industrial centers.

Estimates on Civilian War Deaths as High as 400,000 estimates, another 55,000 died during 1964 and 100,000 in each of the two escalated years since, or at least 415,000 civilians have been killed since 1961.

"Since the males over 16 are away fighting — on one side or the other — it's clear that in the rural villages which bear the brunt of the napalm raids, at least 70 per cent and probably more of the residents are children."

"In other words, at least a quarter of a million of the children of Vietnam have been killed in the war. If there are that many dead, using the military rule of thumb, there must be three times that many wounded — or at least a million child casualties since 1961."

Here in Saigon a U.S. adviser with the Vietnamese health service called these figures "very high."

"We do not have the statistics to disprove such an estimate but observations in the hospitals and streets will show there just aren't that many children who have been wounded," he said.

An American doctor at a Da Nang hospital said "very few children" are among the average of 30 civilian casualties admitted daily.

Vietnamese officials tend to play down or ignore the number of civilian casualties.

"It is impossible to keep records, the people come and go," one said.

Dreams, Curiosity Led Walt Disney to Success

'We Can Lick 'Em With Product' Sums Up Unique Moviemaker's Philosophy

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Walt Disney's philosophy as a film producer was summed up in his off-repeated phrase, "We can lick 'em with product."

"Money never meant anything to me," said Walt, and he believed that if he kept amassing product of as much a quality as he could manage, the youngster, but knew how to out. And they did.

Such films as "Bambi," "Pinocchio" and "Fantasia" failed to make a profit on their first release. But later they were re-released as each new wave of youngsters grew to movie-going age, and the result was a bonanza for the Disney organization.

Walt learned early to hold onto his product and allow no outside control. When a distributor spirited away the rights to the first Disney star, Oswald the Rabbit, Walt vowed never to part with the films he created. Thus when he went into television, he could draw from the vast library of Disney product, dating back to the birth of Mickey Mouse.

Among his comments: "I formed my work patterns early in life. At first I worked on my father's farm, then I delivered newspapers in Kansas for my father, who was a butcher on trains that ran to Colorado and all over. At 16 I was night watchman in a jelly factory in Chicago.

"Kids are too idle nowadays. Their parents don't think it's good for them to work when they're young, but that's a mistake. They have too much leisure, and they don't know what to do with it. I worked hard as a youngster, but knew how to enjoy myself, too. When I did get some leisure, I used it to the utmost.

"If you keep busy, your work might lead you into paths you might not expect. I've always operated like the princes of Serendipity, who went on quests not knowing what they would find. That happens in science; some of our most important discoveries have come from scientists who were searching for something else.

"I've always had a great deal of natural curiosity. Whenever I was curious about something, I'd go to the library and ask for all the books they had on that subject. I'd read about everything, and then I'd ask questions from people who were expert in their field.

"I do the same thing today. I'm curious about something, I pick up the phone and call someone who knows about it. I always get an answer. You'd be surprised how nice people can be when you show them you're really interested."

Puzzler's High-Flying Retsoor

BY TV SCOUT

6:30-7 — Channels 11-6-9 — Holy Audubon, but Robin's ability with bird calls and Batman's knowledge of the flight and personality habits of the Red-Eyed Hermit Nu-Thatch save the Dynamic Duo from the Puzzler's soaring balloon. Then it's up to them to thwart the plans of the arch-criminal (Maurice Evans) who plans to planenap the Retsoor airplane and even hints at the plans by sending our heroes a rooster (Retsoor backwards, see?).

7-7:30 — Channels 11-6-9 — Poor O'Rourke is done out of his saloon on F Troop by guest Peter Leeds, a blackmailer whose philosophy is "every town needs a crook." He supplies his own whiskey (Blackfoot bourbon, Apache ale, Comanche cognac and Shawnee sherry), and imports a line of dancing girls who so discombobulate the troopers that the saloon is placed off limits.

6:30-7:30 — Channels 4-5 — C'est le roi de France on Daniel Boone in the person of talented young Morgan Mason (James Mason's son). Seems Daniel (Fess Parker) has been hired to drive a stage coach containing the young monarch, a woman who says she is his mother and a Frenchman (Cesare Danova) who wants to return the youngster to France and execution.

7:30-8 — Channels 2-7-12 — "Tramp or Ernie" is a cute episode for My Three Sons. Little Ernie keeps sneezing, and it turns out he is allergic to Tramp, the family's shaggy, friendly dog. It looks as if one of them has to go, so Uncle Charley gives Tramp away to the dismay of Ernie, who has recently learned about seniority — something Tramp definitely has in the Douglas clan.

8-10 — Channels 2-7-12 — A warm, moving, funny and realistic movie brightens the screen on The Thursday Night Movies. It's "A Raisin in the Sun," a fine film version of the prize-winning Broadway play which had the good sense to use the excellent actors who appeared in the Broadway version: Sidney Poitier, Claudia McNeil, Rudy Dee and Diana Sands.

7:30-9 — Channels 11-6-9 — That Girl has a warm Christmas show which manages to get in a good message about the meaning of Christmas while making you laugh. It's a flashback tale in which Marlo Thomas tells of a Christmas she spent with a lonely little boy while she was a student teacher at a boys' school.

Ann-Margret Lets down her long hair in the newest Dean Martin spy adventure movie "Murderers' Row," currently playing at the Viking Theater. The actress plays a girl who would rather go discotheque dancing than help super-agent Matt Helm (Martin) smash a terror ring. The film is being shown continuously from 1:30 p.m. during its Viking run. It's also at the Raulf Theater in Oshkosh.

9-10 — Channels 11-6-9 — Hawk has a well-acted tale about an autistic girl who "witnesses" the killing of a policeman. Burt Reynolds tries to convince the girl's mother (Kim Hunter) to let him use the girl to bluff a suspect, a ruse which works only too well.

9-10 — Channels 4-5 — The high spot of The Dean Martin Show is one of those "I'm happier than a hungry dog runnin' loose in a packin' plant" dialogue exchanges between Dean and Tennessee Ernie Ford. It's simile heaven, corny and funny.

Home Sought For KHS Foreign Student in 1967

KAUKAUNA — Plans are underway for a foreign exchange student to attend Kaukauna High School for the 1967-68 school year and the student council is currently looking for a home for the pupil.

It is not yet known whether a boy or girl will be attending classes and usually it is preferred to have the visitor stay at a home where the family has children of comparable age attending school.

The student council has assumed responsibility for paying necessary fees required by the American Field Service. Interested adults having questions about housing or the program may contact Jerome Kroll, assistant principal.
